

Moon Scouts Return to Earth

It's '110 Per Cent Success'

SPACE CENTER. Houston roared aloft from Cape Kennedy—Apollo 10's three moon dy May 18, they had traveled pilots, successful scouts for three quarters of a million man's conquest of the moon, miles in space, orbited the came blazing home today to the moon 31 times, and mapped a warm South Pacific from landing site on the moon's Sea orbiting the arid lunar seas. of Tranquility for Apollo 11.

Thomas P. Stafford, Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young within 9.5 miles of the lunar brought back "110 per cent" success in the most successful space flight America has ever flown.

Next up was mankind's date with destiny—Apollo 11, and a manned landing on the moon July 20. Without Apollo 10 it could not take place.

Flashing one last dazzling view of the approaching globe and telling its inhabitants, "nothing is impossible... it's up to your imagination," the three astronauts shot squarely down a narrow corridor in space into the earth's atmosphere.

In eight days since they was just hoping "the ocean will be there," it was the end of eight days of prayers and fortitude.

For the army of people around the world who guided the astronauts through space and stood by to pick them up in the Pacific, it was the end of a mission with the highest marks yet—110 per cent of its planned objectives according to flight director Glynn Lunney.

For astronauts Armstrong, Aldrin and Michael Collins, it was "go" for the moon.

Stafford, Cernan and Young put on the last of their color television transmissions while they were 41,000 miles out, bringing to 7 hours and 3 minutes the total TV time, more than all previous black and white transmissions by American spacemen.

Happy and clean-shaven, they also paid tribute to the Charlie Brown spacecraft which took them to the moon and back and the Snoopy lunar lander which took Stafford and Cernan skimming the lunar surface.

"It's been a lot of work but we've enjoyed the whole thing," mission commander Stafford said a few minutes after the astronauts flashed a color television transmission of the blue, white and gold-flecked globe from 41,000 miles.

"We're certainly looking forward to being back on the good earth in about five hours," Stafford said. "We felt very strongly about sharing with you some of the adventure, the excitement, the challenges and the rewards of these eight days, and through this endeavor we hope that we've made you and millions of people of the world more of a part of the history that is being made in our day and age."

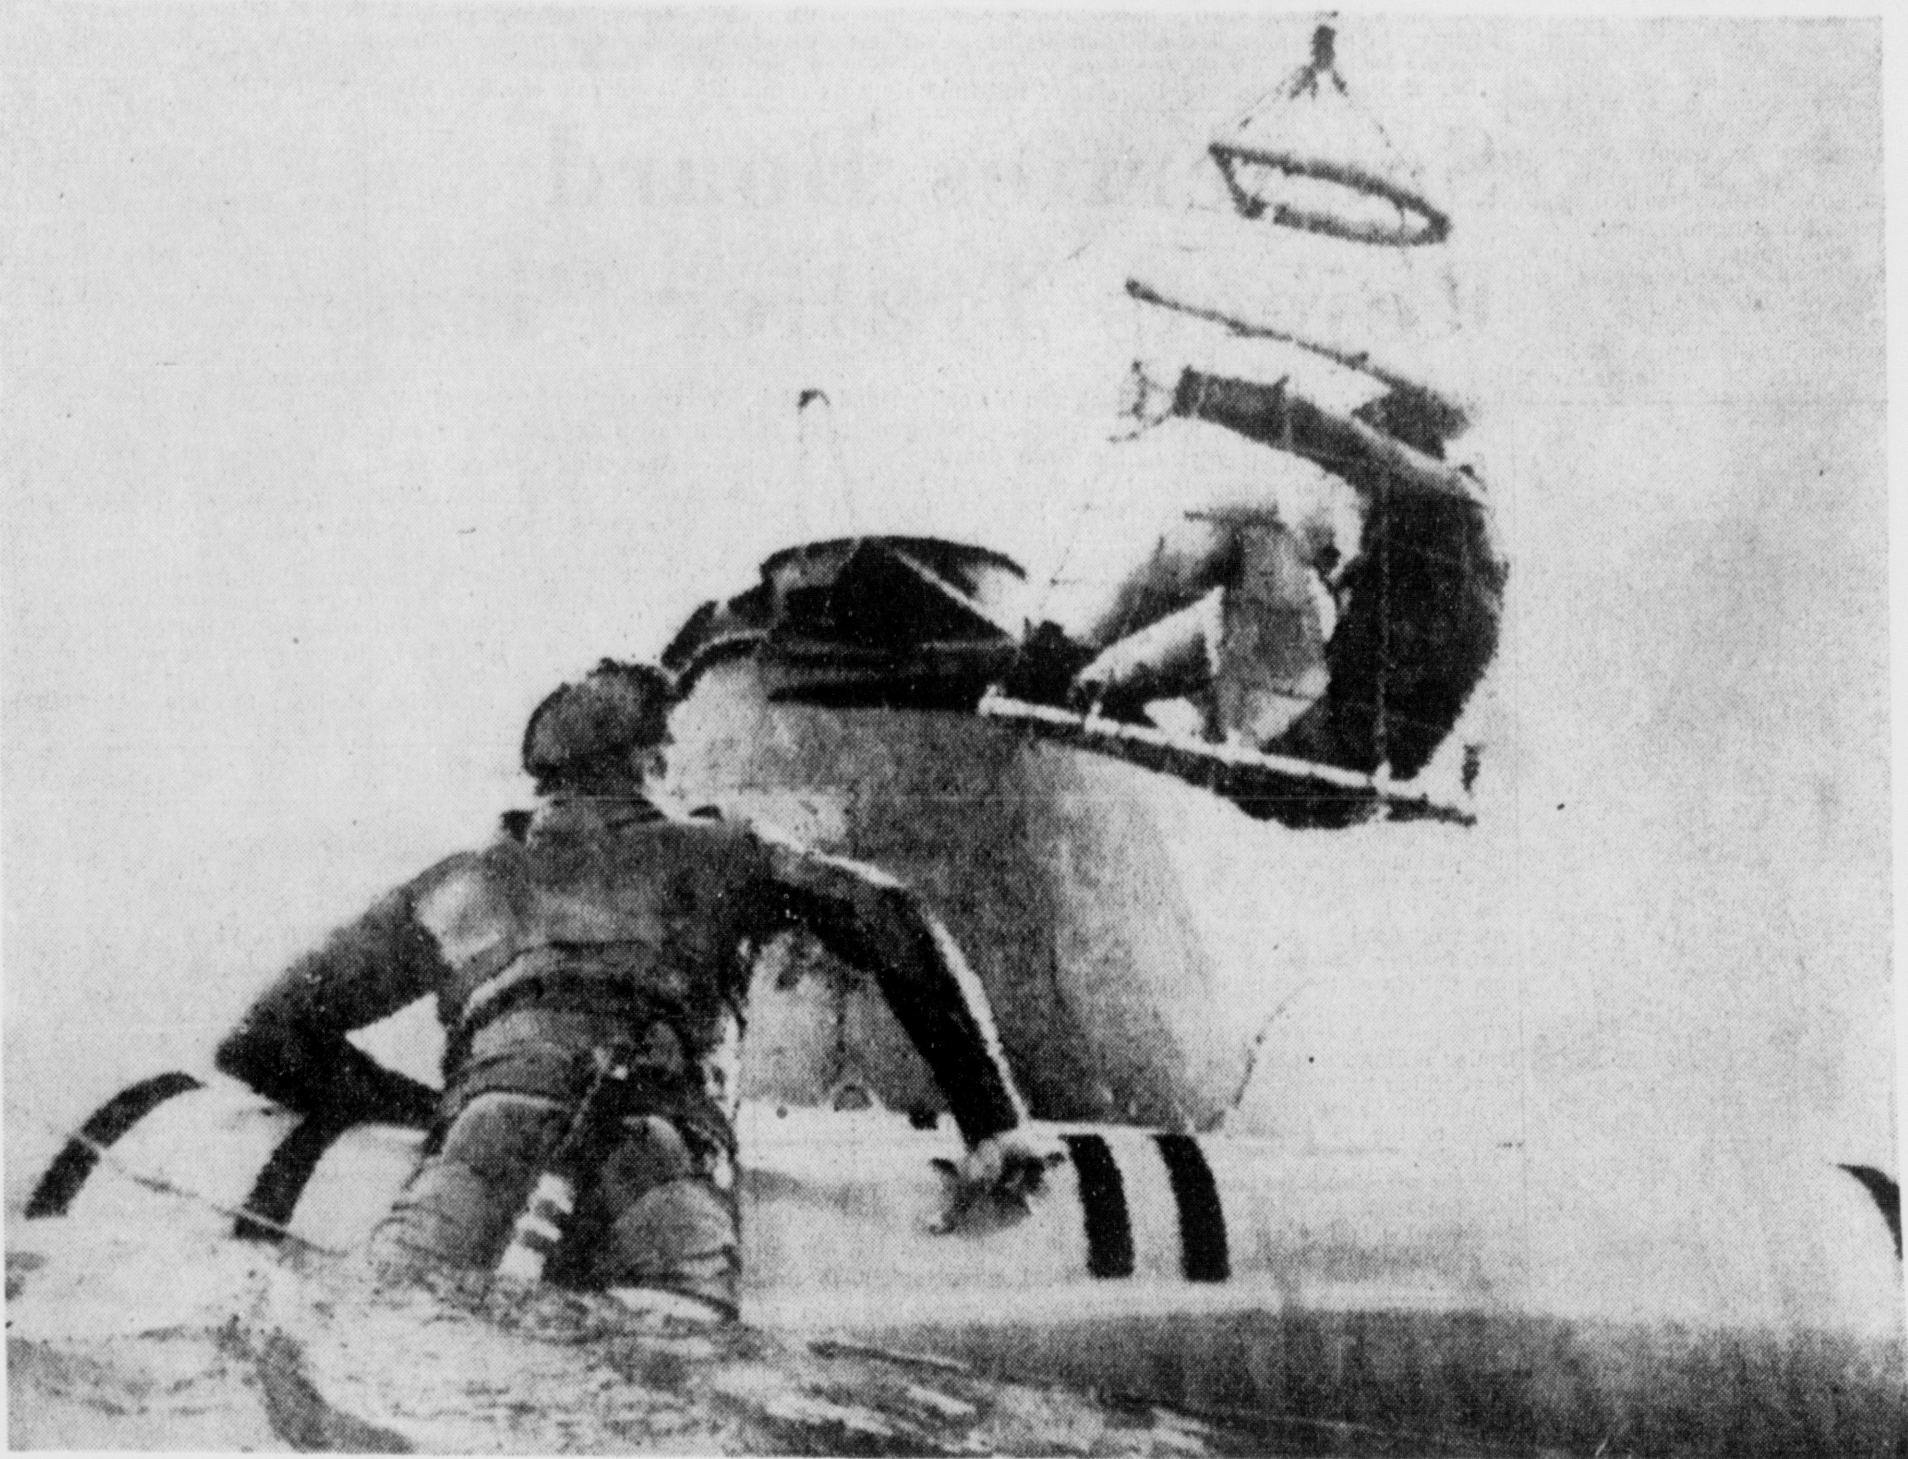

Goals Unlimited

"Man has certainly progressed a long way in such a short few years. And how much we're going to progress in the future is up to your imagination. But if we harness our energies and if our perspective is right, the goals are unlimited."

Cernan added: "I'm convinced after this mission, none of them are going to be easy. But nothing is impossible."

The final television transmission showed a huge "half earth" looming on the screen, lighted on top in brilliant sun. Masses of clouds covered the Northern Hemisphere. India was purple in the twilight. Saudi Arabia glinted gold.

Clean shaven and "ready to kick up our heels," the three astronauts raced back toward earth at 8,625 mph, facing a white-hot plunge into the atmosphere and a parachute descent to the South Pacific.

Apollo 10 Space Project Did Everything but Land

SPACE CENTER. Houston Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan did not fly their Apollo 10 may well have been spacecraft straight into landing something the crew did not do, site No. 2 on the edge of the On the first pass within 10 Sea of Tranquility. They left miles of the moon, commander that for the men of Apollo 11.

But with the exception of that point, Stafford, Cernan and John W. Young, who stayed behind in the command ship, pre-saged almost exactly America's next step in space.

With a successful splashdown today in the Pacific Ocean, Apollo 10 will have almost assured launch of the landing mission July 16 and completion of a goal set for the U.S. space program eight years ago.

Apollo 10's objectives included testing in moon orbit all the components of the space agency's moon landing equipment. It checked the astronauts' ability to navigate in the tricky moon environment and tested the radar the lunar lander will soon use to find the safety of the mother ship from the surface of the moon.

The preparations to put a man on the moon have been difficult and complex. Two space agency officials outlined them in a news conference dealing with the history of the Apollo program prior to launch, Stafford, Cernan and Young.

The process involved three spacecraft programs, and, including Apollo 10, 20 manned flights.

Christopher C. Kraft Jr., director of flight operations, said the Mercury program that broke the U.S. space barrier was trying to "prove man's capabilities in flight." This included whether he could control the spacecraft and how he would react to high acceleration and short periods of weightlessness.

At the conclusion of the Mercury program, "We felt that man had proved himself in being able to perform just about the same things he could in flight here on earth."

"We then set off into Project Gemini which was primarily to establish man's capability to survive for long periods of time up to 14 days, to perform rendezvous, and docking with an unmanned vehicle and extravehicular activity."

"It was, as you know, a very then came death and delay when Apollo 1 burned during practice at Cape Kennedy Jan. 27, 1967, killing astronauts Virgil I. "Gus" Grissom, Roger B. Chaffee and Edward H. White, said.

The fire delayed Apollo's manned debut nearly two years.

But then the redesigned spacecraft flew in October during Apollo 7 and two more missions followed quickly. Apollo 8, the Christmas flight to the moon "made everybody confident about a trip to the moon," Phillips said during the weekend.

Apollo 9, the earth orbital first manned checkride in space of the lunar lander "put the whole system through a test, and we felt confident with the whole system," Phillips said.

Next is Apollo 11, with commander Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin. Armstrong will follow and Collins orbits in the command ship.

Phillips said the mission could be delayed until August if necessary to allow the Apollo 11 crew to complete training, fresh and rested.

Such a decision would be made nearer flight time. "The equipment is in good shape for a July flight," he said.

Large Allied Counteroffensive

SAIGON (UPI)—Following a weekend of fighting that killed more than 600 guerrillas, the U.S. Military Command today announced a new 3,300-man counteroffensive to break up a communist threat on the northern coast.

The heavy weekend fighting and the new offensive, called Operation Lamar Plain, came amid outcry from Democratic leaders in Congress the United States was increasing combat in Vietnam while talking peace in Paris.

At the same time, informed U.S. military sources in Saigon said the Viet Cong had infiltrated 100 to 300 terrorists into the capital with the U.S. embassy and the presidential palace their targets. The sources said a large-scale attack on the city was not in sight.

The Viet Cong's Liberation Radio announced meantime that the Communists would observe a 48-hour truce from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Saturday for Buddha's Birthday.

day. The Allies called for a 24-hour truce and said it would begin at 6 a.m. Friday, the holiday.

Lamar Plain began May 16 with one of the biggest airlift operations of the war but was not announced until today for security reasons, military spokesmen said. So far, 113 North Vietnamese have died in sporadic fighting.

The objective of the troops of the U.S. 101st Airborne and American divisions was to break up a North Vietnamese threat to Tam Ky, a coastal city of 25,000 about 340 miles north-northeast of Saigon.

Among the communist units they are facing is the 3rd Regiment of North Vietnam's 2nd Army Division, known as the "Hanoi Imperial Guard." The crack unit has been in South Vietnam for almost three years, according to allied intelligence.

American losses have been 26 killed and 102 wounded in fighting against North Vietnamese troops firing anti-aircraft guns as artillery, then pulling them back into caves to escape U.S. warplanes.

Divebomber pilots reported having knocked out five of the guns. Anti-aircraft salvos downed one U.S. helicopter in Lamar Plain Sunday, wounding three crewmen and bringing the number of American copters downed by ground fire in the war to 1,145.

About 50 miles to the west, troops of the 101st Airborne were continuing their drive through the A Shau valley. That offensive included the battle for Hamburger Hill, which brought criticism from Democratic Senate leaders Edward M. Kennedy and Mike Mansfield.

Town of Kingston Staggering Vetoed

By LYNN MULVANEY

TOWN OF KINGSTON Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today vetoed legislation to authorize the Town of Kingston to stagger the terms of office of its town justices and town councilmen.

Surprised and "disappointed" at the veto, County Legislator and Majority Leader Douglas Dye of the Town of Kingston said the suggested staggering would have avoided a situation wherein two town justices theoretically can go off the board at the same time.

Understands Need

Rockefeller said that while he understood the need for staggering, the bill was unconstitutional because it called for the initial election of justices for a two-year term, while a four-year term is required by the constitution.

The legislation, which was suggested by Dye and sanctioned by the Town of Kingston Town Board, passed both Houses where it was introduced by Assemblyman H. Clark Bell and Sen. Jay P. Rollison.

The Town of Kingston's problem with town offices began in 1961, Dye said, when its three-man board was enlarged to a five-man board. Prior to that time, the town government was administered by a supervisor, town clerk and a town justice. With the board enlargement, it then consisted of two councilmen, two justices and supervisor. At the time of the establishment of the five-man board, it was decided that the councilmen run for two years and the justices for four.

Explains Town's Plan

Dye said that the Town should have devised a plan whereby one councilman and one justice assumed a two-year term of office and the other councilman and other justice a four-year term of office. In that way, he explained, the terms would have been staggered automatically. Dye, who was a supervisor before becoming a legislator said he feels the system should be changed so as to avoid the possibility of having two justices go out of office at the same time with cases having to be carried over from one term to the next.

Assemblyman Bell said today that he and Sen. Rollison submitted the bill at Dye's request and that a home rule request was required of the town. The state legislature's bill drafting committee put the bill together on the basis of the need to stagger.

Ready for New Try Bell said that if the town wished to try a different way of approaching the problem next year, he will be happy to submit a new bill.

The makeup of the Town of Kingston's present board includes Donald Patton as clerk, supervisor Leo Stauble and other justice a four-year term of office. In that way, he explained, the terms would have been staggered automatically. Dye, who was a supervisor

Erbstein to the Legislators: Support Full Program at UCCC

By LYNN MULVANEY

STONE RIDGE

A letter urging support of a "full education program" for anticipated Ulster County Community College students "until at least 1975" has gone out from UCCC president Dr. George B. Erbstein to all members of the Ulster County Legislature.

Full Details

In his letter, Dr. Erbstein outlines all the information requested by the legislature at its May 8 meeting at which the college Board of Trustees requested its county share of the budget be increased by $475,000 with $150,000 going toward a swimming pool.

Dr. Erbstein said the pool would be used during the regular academic year on an average of 63 hours per week and during the summer 47 hours per week. The estimated cost of maintenance would be $3,590 per year and no additional faculty would be needed since existing faculty are qualified to teach as well as serve as lifeguards.

The president said that a recent survey showed that less than 15 per cent of the students enrolled in the recreation supervision program could swim when they began their program. The major purpose of the swimming pool is for instructional purposes and secondarily for community service.

Dr. Erbstein pointed to the fact that the following two-year colleges in the area have swimming pools already approved: Rockland, Orange, Westchester, Farmingdale, Suffolk and Fulton-Montgomery.

With regard to the percentage of full and part-time enrollment according to county statistics show that during the past four years, 75 per cent or more of the full-time students and 94 per cent or more of the part-time students at UCCC are Ulster County residents. Eleven per cent of full time students come from surrounding counties.

Dr. Erbstein said it should be emphasized that for each full-time, out-of-county student, the college receives $400 a year for operating expenses and $100 a year for capital construction costs from his home county. For part-time students, the college receives reimbursement for both operating and capital.

Dr. Erbstein also proved a report on enrollments and budgets, actual and projected noting that the master plan for SUNY recommends that by 1975, 75 per cent of all freshmen and sophomore students attending the State University will be attending community college.

The estimated number of Ulster County high school graduates, according to the New York State Education Department shows that in 1970 there will be 1,988; in 1974, 2,719 and in 1975, 2,876.

Dr. Erbstein, saying "we should all be proud of the Community College and its contribution to the residents of Ulster County," pointed out that the surrounding counties have also been proud of their colleges. Recent legislation has provided $8½ million to Sullivan County Community College (with anticipated enrollment of one-half of UCCC); Orange County has passed for its college a bond resolution for $20 million additional monies to their present campus; and Dutchess Community College is contemplating $11½ million additional monies for its campus.

The proposed increase of the county's share of the $5.6 million Phase II development also calls for a lecture hall wing, and a kitchen in the Liberal Arts Building.

The proposed increase will also enable the college faculty to accommodate revised upward estimates of 1,400 full-time students by 1970 and 2,000 by 1974.

Saugerties Board Rejects Trailer Plan

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties Town Board defeated adoption of a new trailer ordinance under consideration for some months, The Freeman learned today.

The Town Board vote tied at 2 to 2 was broken by Supervisor A. Michael Schovel, who voted against adoption. Councilmen Bernard Rinaldi and George Turner voted for adoption and Francis Hallion and Robert Smith voted against the ordinance in an executive session last Wednesday.

After a lengthy discussion on the various sections of the proposed new trailer law to replace one now in effect since 1955, those opposed to adoption said that further changes should be made before the measure is ready for approval.

The public hearing on the new trailer ordinance was held May 15 at which time several recommendations were suggested by some of the 70 citizens in attendance.

At the meeting it was reported that the town would not prosecute the 150 trailer owners who are in violation of the 1955 trailer law. The statement was made by Town Attorney Louis P. Francello but he indicated that was his opinion and that it was not a binding decision on the Town Board.

At the May 15 hearing Supervisor Schovel indicated that there might be another hearing on the proposal because of the comments expressed by some of those attending.

Nation Recognizes Burroughs Duo

WEST PARK

A Burroughs triumvirate was linked in official ceremonies this weekend as Slabsides and Riverby Study joined Woodchuck Lodge at Roxbury, as National Historic Sites.

The three rustic habitats of the noted naturalist John Burroughs represent the workshops of a man revered for his observations in his own time and still considered a voice of the wilderness.

The ceremonies Saturday were only slightly dampened by the Hudson River fog and spring showers which prevented use of Slabsides as the site of the proceedings were held at the parish hall of Ascension Episcopal Church overlooking the shower shrouded Hudson. Bill on Abandoned Autos Signed Into Law by Rocky ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Legislation enabling local authorities to deal with the growing problem of abandoned automobiles has been signed into law by Governor Rockefeller.

The bill, recommended by the state Motor Vehicle Department, was signed into law Sunday night. It establishes guidelines for determining when a car is abandoned — and sets up legal machinery to have the auto removed and disposed of.

The new law says a vehicle will be considered abandoned if it is left in a public place without license plates for more than six hours, if it has plates and is illegally parked for more than 24 hours, or was parked legally, and left more than 48 hours after such place became illegal. It would also be abandoned if left on private property more than seven days without the owner's permission.

The last registered owner must be notified by the authorities that the vehicle has been towed, and the car cannot be disposed of until five days after such notice is mailed.

Other bills acted on by Rockefeller included:

Belts — School buses owned or leased by any school district in the state would have to be equipped with a safety belt in the driver's seat under a measure approved by the governor.

Sentence — Rockefeller vetoed a bill that would permit a judge to divide any sentence for a misdemeanor into a period of imprisonment and a period of probation. Rockefeller said the bill was unnecessary and the provisions contained in the bill conflict with "basic concepts presently embodied in the penal law."

Conservation — Rockefeller signed a bill creating a temporary state commission to make a study of the teaching of principles of conservation in New York State. The measure appropriates $50,000 for the commission.

Local governments, effective immediately, have a wide variety of reapportionment plans — including weighted voting, to select from.

Governor Rockefeller signed the bill into law Sunday night. The measure, sponsored by Assemblyman Edward F. Crawford, R-Oswego, includes the so-called "two hat" provision permitting a town supervisor to simultaneously hold the seat of county supervisor provided the two offices were approved by referendum.

The governor also approved, without comment, a chapter amendment to the new law which permits local governments having a mandatory referendum in their charter to retain the provision.

Saugerties Incident

By WALTER S. CLARK

SAUGERTIES — Accused of attempting to run down a village patrolman in the parking lot at the rear of the Grand Union store on partition Street at 4:30 a.m. Sunday, Roger M. Parmelee, 20, of Route 1, Sunrise Park, Kingston, was in the county jail awaiting grand jury action.

Also Involved Chase — Parmelee was charged with criminal endangerment and three vehicle and traffic violations as the result of the incident which also involved a police chase along Main Street. According to Patrolman Charles Winters, he was on duty in police headquarters early yesterday, when a woman entered and complained of a disturbance in the parking lot. Winters walked to the area and saw two parked cars. As he approached the vehicles, one driver later identified as Parmelee, switched on the car lights and drove directly at the officer, who had his hands raised and had shouted an order for the driver to halt. Instead, the operator reportedly increased the speed of the vehicle and continued toward the officer.

Winters said later he jumped from the path of the car with his service revolver in hand. Parmelee, police said, paid no attention to the command to stop as he sped past the patrolman. Winters fired a shot at the fleeing vehicle. The bullet hit the rear bumper and glanced off, going through the right rear tire.

Partially Disabled

Although his car was partially disabled by the deflated tire, Parmelee continued on, swung into Main Street and attempted to drive away. Patrolman Marvin Osborne happened along in a police car. Parmelee reportedly attempted to crash into the police vehicle before proceeding along Main Street. Osborne gave chase and overtook the youth after about a quarter mile pursuit.

The youth is scheduled to appear Tuesday before Judge Goble to face charges of failure to comply with a police order, speeding and passing a flashing red light.

Faces Charges After Car Hits Four

TROY, N. Y. (UPI)—Alice M. Harrell, 21, of Troy, was charged with criminally negligent homicide Sunday after the borrowed car she was driving hit a group of small children on a sidewalk, police reported.

Authorities said Mrs. Harrell's auto jumped a curb, struck the children, smashed three porches, sheared off a utility pole, spun around, jumped the curb a second time and came to rest on the sidewalk.

Killed was Cynthia Colantino, 1½, of Troy. Her 3-year-old sister, Barbara; 6-year-old sister, Pamela, and Robert McCullough, 4, were injured.

 We may be guilty of reading between the lines of Burton Davis' press releases, but it looks like Mr. Davis is playing the rabbit in the three-horse race for the Republican Mayoral nomination.

The rabbit in a horse race usually sets an early fast pace and then fades in the stretch while his running mate takes over.

Davis, via news releases, has made it clear who his running mate is—the party nominee, James J. Tyrrell. Cliff Bunting looks like the man that Tyrrell and his rabbit will have to beat. Nobody mentions the third man, John R. Mayone as a threat, but it may prove a serious miscalculation to count him out of the race.

As we see it, Tyrrell has to get a heavy Republican vote out in order to have any chance of beating Bunting. If it comes down to a popularity contest based on personal friends, Bunting, who's been around for 40 years, should blitz Tyrrell, the Poughkeepsie native.

The problem for Tyrrell, then, is generating interest among the Republicans. Unfortunately, the "new" Tyrrell is committed to a positive campaign based on the issues. The concerned young man does not attack his opponents. But his running mate can and has. We're referring to Davis' Saturday news release about the Uptown parking garage. Davis wonders why the mayor's advisory council on urban renewal hasn't had something to say about the matter.

Oddly enough, Clifford V. Bunting, Republican mayoral candidate, is chairman of the mayor's advisory council on urban renewal. The Tyrrell camp has also made it known that Bunting's council hasn't met in over a year. Bunting, for his part, says that serving on the council has been an exercise in futility since the mayor has turned a deaf ear to all its suggestions.

Meanwhile, back at the track, Mayone has his "game plan" set. It would appear that Mayone considers Tyrrell the man to beat as witnessed by his thinly veiled criticisms of his young opponent in regards to "shotgun news releases" and "instant solutions" to the city's problems.

The Mayone camp's assessment of Bunting? "Take him away from the Uptown urban renewal problem and he couldn't find his way to city hall."

Bunting appears to be making the same mistake he made at the Republican convention in March—assuming he's the logical choice for the nomination. He's not. He's going to have to go out and prove it. He may get chewed up by a rabbit along the way.

City Bits—Orrie Riehl, county legislator who returned as city treasurer last week, is taking no chances on the possibility of conflict of interest charges. Orrie contacted the State Department of Audit and Control who offered the following ruling in his case, "There is no impropriety in the holding, by a county legislator, of the office of treasurer of a city within the county." Riehl is up for reelection for another term on the county board. Mayor Garraghan, a lame duck, hasn't had much to say these days about some major city issues like the dog problem, the uptown parking garage and the $600,000 code enforcement grant the city recently had approved. Perhaps the mayor feels that discretion is the better part of valor, especially with three Republican mayoral candidates carefully checking his record.

Larceny Charged In Auto Theft

ELLENVILLE—James Gray, 26, of this village, was arraigned Friday before Police Justice Ronald Elias on a charge of second degree grand larceny involving the alleged theft of an automobile. No plea was entered and preliminary hearing was adjourned until Tuesday.

In lieu of $2,500 bail, the man was committed to the county jail.

Gray was arrested earlier this week on a public intoxication charge by Monticello police. In his possession, authorities said, police found personal papers and car keys belonging to Mortimer Horowitz. The vehicle had been reported stolen from Marl's Parking lot on Canal Street. The car was later found abandoned in Liberty.

Lieut. George Sheeley and Officer Ward Hull conducted investigation of the car theft. At arraignment, Judge Elias appointed Attorney Albert Lonstein as counsel for the defendant.

Farm Accident Survey Set in Ulster County

KINGSTON
 Ulster County will be one of 11 counties in the state selected to participate in a farm accident survey to be conducted for the remainder of the year. The counties including Chautauque, Cortland, Oneida, Orleans, St. Lawrence, Steuben, Suffolk, Washington, Wayne and Yates represent a cross-section of New York agriculture, climate and soil conditions. The survey is being conducted co-operatively by the Advisory Council on Farm Labor Safety of the Department of Labor, the Agricultural Extension Service and the State Farm Bureau and other organizations.

About 25 per cent of the commercial farms in the selected counties are to be included in the survey. Volunteer interviewers will be responsible for collections of the survey data in cooperation with the various county organizations.

The object of the survey is to learn the proportion of farms where one or more accidents actually occurred, the frequency, severity, type and causes of accidental injury and to stimulate interest in developing a long-range program of farm safety.

The results will be used by the Advisory Council for recommendations to the Commissioner of Labor in regard to measures to prevent accidents.

At least six other states are planning a similar survey.

Four Attend School Boards State Parley

NEW PALTZ
 Four representatives of the New Paltz Central School District attended a spring conference meeting of the New York State School Boards Association, last week at Livingston Manor Central School. It was announced by Ashton W. Hart, president of the New Paltz Central School Board.

This meeting was one of 18 held throughout the state to advise school officials of legislation and new laws enacted by the State Legislature and the impact on local school districts.

Those attending from the New Paltz Central School included Hart, Harry Cornwell, Mrs. Andrew Bivona and Frank A. Hamilton, business administrator.

Over 2,000 school officials attended 14 similar meetings held last year. The New York State School Boards Association represents the leadership of the public schools with an enrollment of over 3,396,000 pupils in the state.

Negroes at Colleges

Bruce Bioassat in his column appearing elsewhere on this page points out that Negro students are far in the minority in colleges rebel unrest. Black faces amid the swirling protesters seem so numerous as to suggest they are the dominant element. The impression is misleading.

The demands of a handful of Negroes at Eastern colleges, and especially the show of arms at Cornell, have created the impression that there is an army of militant black students on campus. A survey made by the Southern Education Reporting Service for the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges puts a different face on the matter.

The report shows that five per cent of the nation's college students are Negroes, but most are in all or nearly all Negro schools. In the leading universities, Negroes make up fewer than 2 per cent of the students.

The report points out that in a year of turmoil the impression has sometimes been conveyed that a black wave of students has swept into traditionally white higher education. That impression has been due to the turmoil the black contingent created.

Of the 80 public universities and colleges covered, there were 23,630 Negro students among the 1,222,382 full-time undergraduates last fall, almost half freshmen. That indicates an increase in the commitments these institutions made to seek and enroll Negroes this year. When they are admitted on the basis of ability, the score should be even.

Democratic 'Surgery'

One thing the Democrats are not going to have in their future national conventions is the circus atmosphere that threatened it with complete breakdown in Chicago, if the Commission on Rules now in session has its way. Most of the members urged "major surgery" to reduce the delegations to manageable size. Almost all were for huge cuts in the 2,900 delegates and alternates who jammed the aisles of International Amphitheater last summer.

Stephen A. Mitchell, a former national chairman, who was convention manager for Senator Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, said Chicago was an "assembly of mob proportions, interfered with by every kind of sideshow." He urged the delegates be reduced to 435, the size of the House of Representatives and keep reporters, cameramen, everyone but delegates off the convention floor.

Prof. Alexander M. Bickel of Yale University Law School enlarged the target to 535 delegates, the combined size of the House and Senate. But Prof. Paul T. David of the University of Virginia, perhaps more practical, hoped the convention could be cut down to between 1,000 and 1,500, about where the Republican convention now stands.

A different note of caution was sounded by Prof. Robert G. Dixon of George Washington University. While the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rulings did not appear to apply to political conventions, he advised, "You should scrutinize all aspects of the apportionment of delegates to avoid possible judicial intervention in the future."

The Democrats are determined not to have a repetition of last summer's turmoil in Chicago. If they can eliminate the bigness and the showmanship of their convention, they still will have to deal with the huge number, young and old, who go to try to influence the convention. That was the real trouble at Chicago. Convention reform will not eliminate it.

David Lawrence Says

Judge Burger Is Dedicated To Principles of Justice

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, in his appointment of Judge Warren E. Burger as the new Chief Justice, may perhaps have done more to encourage and stimulate the Federal and State Judiciary than any President in the last half century. For while there are eminent lawyers who have been selected for the Supreme Court, and they have served meritoriously, the truth is that some of the finest judges on State Supreme Courts, U.S. Courts of Appeals and Federal District Courts have been overlooked.

Unfortunately, personal or political considerations have again and again influenced Presidents of the United States so that they have often bypassed the best jurists in the country, choosing instead men either from Congress or from their own Cabinet or personal or political associates.

On Tuesday of this week, this correspondent in his dispatch said:

"Preferably, Mr. Nixon might appoint individuals who have actually served on the bench—either in United States District or Circuit courts of Appeals or in the State Supreme Courts.

"It would be most unfortunate if political or personal considerations in any way entered into the selection of the new justices."

There have been rumors for several weeks now that Mr. Nixon would pick someone from the Federal bench, and the name of Warren Burger has often been mentioned. In fact, in an informal poll at a recent conference of the eleven Chief Justices of the U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeals throughout the country, circuit court Judge Burger and District Court Judge Henry J.

Friendly of New York were voted to be the two men on the bench who would be the best selections for Chief Justice.

A Chief Justice does not have any more judicial power than each of the other eight justices on the Supreme Court, and sometimes his opinions are in the minority as a majority decision is reached without him. Only 14 men have served as Chief Justice since the establishment of the Supreme Court in 1789. Out of the number, this writer happens to have known personally the last five and in addition, the new appointee, Judge Burger. Conversations with these Justices, however, have never touched on pending legal cases or decisions already rendered.

Looking back to 1921, when President Harding, a Republican, appointed a former President of the United States, William Howard Taft, to be Chief Justice, favorable opinion was widespread because Mr. Taft had been for many years on the bench, including eight years on the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Charles Evans Hughes, an outstanding lawyer, was Governor of New York when President Taft appointed him as an associate justice. He was on the High Court from 1910 to 1916, and resigned to run for the Presidency on the Republican ticket but was defeated by President Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Hughes was appointed Chief Justice in 1930 by President Hoover, serving until 1941. He was one of the ablest men to serve as Chief Justice.

Harlan F. Stone, the next Chief Justice, was Attorney General of the United States

when he was named an associate justice in 1952 by President Coolidge, a Republican, and then, after 16 years on the High Court, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a Democrat, appointed him Chief Justice in 1941.

Fred M. Vinson had long been an influential member of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives, after which he was for five years on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. He resigned in 1943 to accept important posts in the Executive Branch of the Government during World War II. He was Secretary of the Treasury when President Truman appointed him Chief Justice in 1946.

Earl Warren, named Chief Justice by President Eisenhower in 1953, had not been on the bench before. He had been a county prosecuting Attorney and later Governor of California for ten years. He ran for the Vice Presidency in 1948 on the Republican ticket after having been an influential factor in swinging the Presidential nomination to Governor Dewey. People may differ with some of Mr. Warren's decisions, but there is no doubt about his sincerity and high purpose.

The new appointee, Judge Burger, speaks his mind unequivocally and is dedicated to the principles of justice and the Constitution. Some will say he is a "conservative," and others will say he is a "liberal," depending upon their own point of view. As far as Warren Burger is concerned, however, he tries to be simply an honest-minded judge. That is what he will be in the post for which he has just been selected.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

No man ever forgives a hero who isn't. When I was a cub reporter, Ernest Hemingway was mine. He had written a book called "The Sun Also Rises." It was his first about bullfighting and about men who watch matadors die and who, in the cool of the evening, trade women.

He was the father of the lean and hungry sentence. Often, when the city editor was thinking of giving a story assignment to me, I opened the top drawer of my desk and flipped "The Sun Also Rises" to a random page and read it quickly. I thought that, by osmosis, my hero's touch would filter through my brain to my fingertips.

As the years rolled by, I read more and more of Hemingway and thought less and less of him. Either I was beginning to mature and could see the pre-eminent fear of death in the man, or he was diminishing to my size and my hero was a pygmy.

I was so surprised when he quit. He stuck two barrels of gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger with a bare toe. He was sure he had lost his virility; he was tired of counting the hairs on his chest; his mental depression was so deep that he had lost the ability to place one word behind the other. Maybe, for a writer, this is the time to go because an author is the only craftsman who cannot employ an assistant.

Hemingway was a simple man to analyze. He was obsessed with manliness. This, to him, meant fishing for the biggest fish, shooting the most ferocious lion, and subjecting the most beautiful women to his will. It was an assortment of achievements which had to be repeated again and again.

He could not brook any criticism of his books and broke strong friendships as some men snap matches. Scribner, his publishers, catered to his whims because he was a profitable property and a fine writer. Max Perkins, his editor, was a better man than Hemingway but he will go down in literary history as the man who was smart enough to take Hemingway from another publisher and keep him happy.

He was a squarish mustached man who enjoyed being called "Poppa" and enjoyed speaking in a spurious Indian patois: "Poppa like one more big froze diaguiri." He married several women and sometimes found time to visit his children. His favorite word was "truly." If a sentence was truly written, it was automatically a good one. If a man was truly a friend, he could be trusted. If a woman truly desired to belong to him, she was a good woman and he became conscience-stricken about the wife he left rocking a cradle.

Hemingway had friends in the literary monastery—John Dos Passos, Sinclair Lewis, Scott Fitzgerald—but if they wrote laudatory reviews about his books and he found a sentence or two that was critical, he chopped his friends to death publicly and privately. Once he wrote to Archibald MacLeish the he "loved life so much that it would be a big disgust when the time came to shoot" himself.

Hemingway's father, a pious physician, committed suicide. Now at long last, a full length biography has been written entitled "Ernest Hemingway: A Life Story" (Scribner). It was researched and written in seven years by a professor at Princeton University named Carlos Baker.

The author does not spare my one-time hero. He tells it all without reserve. The weakness in the book is that it sounds like 50,000 research notes written in an interminable string of beads. It sings no song; it resurrects no one.

At one point, Hemingway explains to a former wife that he cannot visit his children yet because he must spend more time in Cuba to save on American income tax.

It's a jarring thing for me to lose a hero. Truly...

Drew Pearson Says Healthy Aftermath of Dodd Censure Continue to Multiply

WASHINGTON — With the appointment of a new Chief Justice to the Supreme Court, Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut has taken heart and renewed his litigation against this column. However, the public benefits accruing from the Dodd censure continue to multiply.

Congressmen have recently filed their financial returns under the new code of ethical conduct adopted after the Dodd investigation, and they throw significant light on several previous congressional battles.

One of these was the backstage battle to limit the power of Rep. Wright Patman, elder statesman from Texas, Tex., chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, and a valiant defender of the public where high interest rates and dubious banking practices are concerned. Two years ago members of his committee ganged up on him to hamstring his investigative powers, remove his investigators and otherwise make impotent his power as a long-time bank critic.

Financial statements, which members of Patman's committee have now filed, give a significant clue to their passion for protecting the banks. Most of them held stock in either banks or building and loan associations.

Here is the roll call of Congressmen who battled back-stage to clip the wings of their chairman when he wanted to be too forthright in pushing investigations of banks. All the Republicans on Patman's committee voted against him. They included:

Friends of Bankers

William Brock, Tenn., who it is now revealed is a stockholder in the Hamilton National Bank of Chattanooga and Knoxville; Chester Mize of Kansas, who owns stock in a bank holding company; William Stanton of Ohio, who owns stock in the Lake County (Ohio) National Bank.

In addition, the following Democrats ganged up against their fellow democrat: Tom Gettys, S. C., trustee of an estate with stock in the Rock Hill, S. C.; William Moorhead of Pennsylvania, with stock in the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh; Robert Stevens of Georgia with stock in the First National Bank of Athens, Ga.

Not all members of this committee voted their pocketbook interests, however.

Henry Reuss of Wisconsin owns stock in a family banking company in Milwaukee; Tom Rees of California owns stock in the Community Bank of San Jose and the Westdale Savings and Loan; Richard T. Hanna, also of California, owns stock in Occidental Savings and Loan. All voted with Patman, and Rees was instrumental in working out the compromise to help the chairman, Leonor Sullivan of Missouri, who owns stock in the Liberty Loan, Mercantile Trust and Mound City Trust of St. Louis, also voted with Patman.

A new banker has now been added to the Banking and Currency Committee, Republican Congressman J. Glenn Beall Jr. of Maryland, a director of the First National Bank and Trust of Baltimore.

Tempting Offer

The manner in which bankers try to plant conflicts of interest in the Banking and Currency Committee is illustrated by a conversation reported by Rep. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio, one of the few Spanish-American members of Congress. After he was appointed to this key banking committee, says Gonzalez, he received a visit from a San Antonio businessman chairman of the board."

The banker reached for his brief case and started to open it. "We have prepared some papers," he said. "We think it would be a mutually profitable arrangement. We know you don't have any side interests, and your name would be helpful to us."

"Surely," broke in Gonzalez, "you know I am a member of the Committee on Banking and Currency of the House."

The banker looked at him quite innocently and replied: "No, I didn't know that."

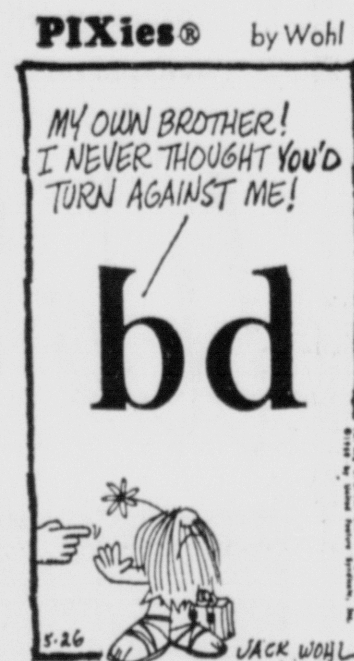

"You are not going to tell me you were not aware of my committee standing," demanded Gonzalez, getting hot under the collar.

Unperturbed, the man from the bank repeated his offer. "I have these papers here," he said, "and we are going to let you have $14,000 in stock." The money, he suggested, could be paid back "in time." Gonzalez showed his visitor to the door.

Only the refusal by Gonzalez, apparently, made the incident unique. At least a dozen members of the House Banking Committee have had no compunction about accepting the stock in the institutions whose profits they can affect.

Negroes Far in Minority In Colleges, Rebel Unrest

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Black faces amid the swirling ranks of college protesters sometimes seem so numerous as to suggest they are the dominant element in much campus unrest. The impression is misleading, for their numbers are still relatively small.

In the 80 largely white state universities affiliated with the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, a survey disclosed that on the average less than two of every 100 students and only one of every 100 graduates is a Negro.

The nation's black population today represents 11 per cent of the U.S. grand total, but not one of the 80 surveyed schools has a black enrollment that high. The closest is Wayne State University in Detroit, with a 10 per cent black enrollment.

In the previous school year there were actually more foreign students than American Negroes in U.S. colleges and universities. Furthermore, figures indicate that nearly half the Negroes in the U.S. schools are freshmen. This reflects the great recruitment push of the last year or two.

Negro totals in the colleges are swollen, too, by so-called "high risk" programs under which certain schools undertake to admit a limited proportion of blacks who cannot meet the institutions' regular admission standards.

While these programs have wide approval and are growing in number, they have serious negative aspects which contribute to campus unrest rather than ease it.

John Egerton's survey report on the 100 member schools (including almost a score of once all-Negro schools) in the National Association says of the "high risk" entrants:

"The unpreparedness of these students has frequently been noted in institutional studies and press reports. But the institutions, too, are often unprepared, not only to deal with the so-called 'high risk' students but with black students generally.

"High risk" is a two-sided coin. The institutions take a risk on the students, but the reverse is also true, and the risk any black student takes when he enters a white-oriented institution is substantial."

In a recent interview, the scholarly president of a prominent university privately told this reporter that he and many of his fellow presidents see black college students generally as living under "severe psychological strain."

Their fear of whites in predominantly white schools, he said, often borders on the paranoid.

Negro leader Bayard Rustin says this phenomenon results from the "shock of integration." Negro students' call for separate black dormitories, for black studies attended and managed exclusively by blacks, and for other similar separatism is put down by Rustin as a perhaps understandable but nevertheless unwise recoil from shock.

The Egerton report makes plain that black students militantly pressing for a larger and often separatist role in the colleges do not count much on white radical support for their demands.

They may not accept the view of President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College that white radicals see them as "cannon fodder" in a white-managed "revolution." But they are very wary.

The survey report tested black attitudes at five "case-study" universities among the 80 largely white schools. Its summary:

"They (the blacks) said the whites were trying to use the black students as pawns to advance their own interests, or that they had no serious commitment to the elimination of racial inequities."

Moreover, only black extremists talk revolution as white radicals do. Most college blacks shun that course. Says Egerton:

"They do not so much reject the affluent society as they condemn the system which has excluded them from it. . . . Reform rather than revolution is the dominant style, and black Americans are a central catalytic force."

Editor, The Freeman:
An area wildlife conservationist, I would like to warn citizens in four counties, Rockland, Sullivan, Orange and Ulster, of what will be taking place during the next three weeks. These counties are and will be sprayed by 'copters' in the supposed gypsy moth eradication program.

If mass spraying of deadly hard pesticides did vast damage in 1959 to wildlife and it was ordered by our State Conservation Department, is it unrealistic to believe this current mass-spraying won't be even more deadly?

Dr. Robert Rienow, New York State college instructor and TV conservation education promoter, and his wife, Leona, who live in Selkirk, N. Y., wrote in their book, Moment in the Sun, a best-seller across the nation since 1967, in that book's chapter entitled Our Rising Standards of Poison. "... Few realize that such spray often drifts for many miles. The effect of Sevin, a new organic carbamate, substituted for the chlorinated hydrocarbons, are unknown. Although its residual life is much shorter, one of its breakdown products is said to be 1-Naphthol, listed as "very toxic." Research on these commercial sprays includes hard pesticide Sevin, to be used currently in the four, aforementioned counties. Sevin has a toxicity rating of four, the same rating as given to DDT. Research on Sevin has explained the discovery of earlier, unsuspected residues as due to more sensitive methods of chemical analysis. Effects of Sevin on wildlife are apparently, as yet, in the balance. An agricultural agent-friend of Dr. Rienow's who originally was a strong advocate of Sevin, has recently reversed his opinion in equally strong manner.

The Conservation Department states that permission of all landowners of lands to be sprayed with Sevin has been obtained. But, it would be impossible to obtain permission of the millions to unknown landowners who will be victimized by this spraying. Air and water currents travel, and have been known to travel, as far as 50 miles. The hydrologic cycle process has any tree actually raining up moisture, laden with this pesticide, to be gathered in cloud-formation and then deposited on unknown landowners' property. Rain washes the pesticide down into our vast system of underground waters and streams, to be carried into oceans and all over the world. So, air currents and evaporation from foliage sprayed with this poison nas Sevin eventually penetrating all animals', fish's, songbirds', game birds' food through pesticide settling on an entire area, as it moves into farther areas. Sevin, even when applied to an individual tree, kills our wildlife and birds, as well as valuable domestic animals. There is simply no way to chart the damage being done at this very hour through the mass spraying which is being photographed, incidentally, by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, for publicity purposes.

Chemical companies are frantically unloading their hard pesticides on conservation departments for mass-spraying, and on private citizens. Congress and the Senate in Washington are exceedingly active in passing laws outlawing these hard pesticides. To me, there is mutual criminality in the wheeler-dealer processes that have caused this mass-spraying in the name of gypsy moth eradication. Organic deterrents are being used more safely. There is a small wasp, which when let loose on the gypsy moth, controls that insect without billions of wildlife being sacrificed to the profits of a few conscienceless chemical manufacturing companies, through the government conservation departments. It isn't that these conservation officials are unaware of the dangers involved in the spraying, for they have been made aware through the warnings of conservationists such as myself.

Register your protest. Send it to Stuart Kilborne, commissioner of the N.Y.S. Conservation Department, State Campus, Albany, New York 12226. Demand that the program be discontinued at once. My protest went to Commissioner Don Wickham, Department of Agriculture, by special delivery. While the program isn't out of the Agricultural Department, they have power in Albany political circles, and it could possibly do some good.

Sincerely,
Marguerite Evans Isaacs

Recommends Judge Fuld
Editor, The Freeman
A number of distinguished and prominent judges and eminent lawyers have been suggested to replace Justice Fortas, whose resignation was tendered a week ago, and I assume that Chief Justice Warren will also retire by the first of July. In recommending the appointment of Hon. Stanley Fuld, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, the highest tribunal of New York State, I do so because I believe his appointment would add lustre to the court and be a wise and popular appointment. Judge Fuld was a disciple of Justice Cardozo and is of the highest legal reputation as a Jurist and also of the highest character, integrity and honor. He went to the same college as Cardozo and graduated from the same Columbia Law School. He is a lifelong Republican who was endorsed by the Democrats. As Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, he holds the same post that Justice Cardozo held when he was appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

I agree with the Hon. Arthur Goldberg that judicial offices should be filled on individual merit and not to preserve a so-called racial balance. There is no individual in the nation who has had a finer training, greater experience, or a better record than Judge Fuld. The fact that there is no one of Jewish origin in the Cabinet or now on the Supreme Court certainly would not in any way diminish his well known judicial qualifications. I am sure that the American Bar Association and the legal fraternity in New York would approve of his appointment on his distinguished record and that both Republicans and Democrats of New York State, would likewise.

Catholic Charities
Editor, The Freeman:
We are sincerely grateful for your generous cooperation in the 1969 Golden Jubilee Fund Appeal of New York Catholic Charities.

Your assistance has been of invaluable service in informing the public of the multi-faceted work of the Catholic Charities health and welfare network in every corner of the ten-County Archdiocese.

The funds collected from this year's Jubilee Appeal will be used, as they have for the past half century, to aid the poor, the needy and those who require professional guidance to solve their problems.

Through the outstanding help of your newspaper, we have been able to inform those who support the appeal each year what their generosity has accomplished. It is essential that they know that their charitable contributions are used for the purposes they intended: Ninety-five cents of every dollar donated is spent on direct services to families, youths, children, the sick and aging; administration and appeal costs consume only the remaining five cents.

Thank you for your important contribution to the maintenance and continued expansion of our services to this community.

Sincerely,
RT. REV.

Ordination of Women
Editor, The Freeman:

I was in Kingston yesterday on business and happened to see an article which appeared in the Kingston Freeman on Saturday, May 17th, under the caption: "Two Women To Be Deacons At Port Ewen." Since I was a pastor in Kingston for nine years, 1958-1967, I feel it is not out of order for me to react to this article.

I feel the record should be set straight. The Constitution of the Reformed Church in America has not been changed and the election and ordination of women to the office of Elder, Deacon, or Minister of the Word is clearly forbidden by this document. Any church that elects women to these offices is in violation of the Reformed Church Constitution and will in due time have to answer for its actions before the General Synod. Personally, I feel that actions such as that noted in your article of May 17th, is another example of the general spirit of lawlessness gripping our nation and our world. I am both saddened and sickened by the action of this kind of individual or group who brazenly flaunts the laws of the land or the church.

Yours truly,
PATRICK R. VOSTELLO, Minister,
Reformed Church in America

Fire officials requested detectives to investigate four fires of incendiary origin that were discovered on a lane between Newkirk Avenue and Stuyvesant Street, shortly after 3:30 p. m. Sunday. When firemen arrived they found an old mattress burning near an automobile, and subsequently discovered three separate fires in a block garage owned by Frank Costello. Firefighters quelled the flames with pressurized water. The blaze was confined to papers, rubbish and other debris. Deputy Chief Hugh Greer in charge of the fire units listed the cause of the four fires incendiary. At 10:56 p. m. Sunday, firemen responded to an alarm after fire was reported in a Salvation Army metal clothing container near the Kingston Plaza. Firemen in charge of Lt. Joseph Miles extinguished the fire with a booster stream. The cause of the blaze was not determined.

Two Are Held On Attempted Rape Charges

Two 20-year-old men were taken into custody today facing charges of attempted rape in the first degree involving a 19-year-old Stone Ridge woman.

Booked by St. BCI Investigator Michael Bonney and Investigator Michael Mahoney on Sunday were Charles Sylvester Scully, of Box 43, and Robert Joseph Winnie, of Box 258, both of Kingston. Troopers also took a boy juvenile into custody in connection with the investigation. He will be petitioned into Family Court.

The arrests stemmed from a complaint made by the woman, who accused the trio of attempting to assault her on May 18 at the Accord Speedway.

Arraigned before Rochester Town Justice Raymond Lawrence, Scully and Winnie pleaded innocent and requested a preliminary hearing. The case was adjourned until June 3 by Judge Lawrence.

The Blue Cross Figures

NEW YORK (AP) — Blue Cross is seeking a rate boost of 71 per cent, or $4.39 per month, for 188,000 residents of the metropolitan area.

The agency said last Thursday it was applying to the state superintendent of insurance for an average boost of 49.5 per cent.

At that time it was not explained, however, that the proposed boost would be 71 per cent for those with contracts fully covering 120-day stays in the hospital.

A Blue Cross spokesman said Sunday all the figures in dollar value were given to newsmen at the time. He said the 49.5 per cent was "just a convenient figure... a weighted average."

State Sen. Seymour Thaler of Queens, ranking Democrat on the Joint Legislative Committee on Health, said the other figures broke down like this:

—A 51 per cent increase for the 319,358 persons covered under group contracts calling for full payment for 21 full days and half payment for 180 days.

—48 per cent for 429,251 families with similar coverage group contracts.

—46 per cent for 192,794 persons with similar coverage individual contracts.

—36 per cent for 36,967 families with similar coverage individual contracts.

Find Wreckage Of Small Plane, Pilot Injured

BERLIN, N.Y. (UPI) — Sheriff's deputies found the wreckage Sunday of a light plane which crashed near the top of fog-shrouded Misery Mountain in this Rensselaer County community Saturday.

Frank Icaza, 48, of Hartford, Conn., the pilot and sole occupant of the Cessna 150, crawled from the wreckage and wandered in the heavily wooded area for several hours before being rescued.

Icaza was reported in "good" condition today at the Pittsfield Memorial Hospital unit of the Berkshire Medical Center in Massachusetts. The crash site was in the Taconic range about five miles west of the New York

Massachusetts state line.

Icaza was enroute to Bradley Field in North Hartford, Conn. from the Schenectady County Airport and was flying at 2,500 feet when he crashed into the 2,600-foot-high mountain. He suffered a fractured nose and numerous lacerations in the accident.

Sheriff's deputies, volunteer firemen and civil defense officials located the scattered wreckage at midday Sunday. The searchers said it took several hours to climb the rugged, heavily wooded mountainside before locating the plane.

Flood Officer Quits Dutchess Post for Coast

POUGHKEEPSIE

Dr. A. Scott Warthin Jr., who formed the Dutchess County Flood Forecast Committee in 1953 to warn persons living close to streams of potential flood dangers in times of storms, has resigned as chairman of that unit. He has named LeRoy Fein to succeed him.

Dr. Warthin will retire in June as chairman of the Geology Department at Vassar College, a position he has held the last 40 years. He will join the Geology Department at California State College in Long Branch. The Flood Forecast Committee is one of a few such committees for small to moderate sized streams in the United States.

The Dutchess forecasters on numerous occasions have assisted in flood predictions in Ulster County, especially in the Wallkill River area. Fein, treasurer of the Safety Council of Greater Poughkeepsie, had assisted with the Miss New York State Contest held in Kingston.

Fatal Shooting In Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — A shooting here Saturday night has left one man dead and a second held without bail on a murder charge.

Police identified the dead man only as a C. J. Jackson. They said he was hit with a single blast from a shotgun.

Charged with murder is Eddie Fleming, 33, who is being held in Orange County Jail in Goshen for a preliminary hearing Tuesday. The shooting occurred near Fleming's home, authorities said.

Fleming lives at 335 N. Water St.

Food Stamps Plan Opposed by Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairmen of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees say they oppose President Nixon's proposal to give free food stamps to the nation's poorest families. One predicted food money would be diverted to "beer and marijuana."

House Agriculture Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., and Senate Agriculture Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., whose committee is conducting hearings on proposals to sharply increase food stamp spending, were interviewed separately.

Although Sen. George S. McGovern's Select Nutrition Committee has held widely publicized hearings and field trips on hunger, the Agriculture Committees of the two houses have responsibility for approving any changes in the present program.

Ellender said he feared costs would soar if stamps were given free. He said state and local agencies should give cash to the blind, disabled and others who cannot earn the dollars required to buy food stamps.

If food stamps were free, he said, money now spent on food would be left and "a lot of them would buy a car on time and a TV and all kinds of things they don't need."

Poage agreed.

"If you just give them this food the money they're spending for food now is going to go for beer and marijuana and worse," he said.

The present food stamp program allots $340 million a year in federal money. On the average, recipients pay $6 for $10 worth of stamps, which are redeemable to food only at groceries.

Nixon has proposed boosting the program by $270 million in the coming fiscal year, and by another $1 billion in 1971. He also proposed lowering the amount of cash a family would pay for the stamps and giving them free to the poorest families.

"I feel very safe and secure in our Maverick, little as it is. It really holds the road. My husband bought it for me as a shopping car, but every morning, he says, well I guess I'll take the Maverick to work today."

Mrs. Kenneth Miller, North Babylon, N.Y.

"I wanted a car and foreign cars are hard to fix. So my brother said, 'Maverick was coming, and I waited. It's a great car to learn to drive with. You can park it and drive it so easily. I really love it.'"

Miss Susan Sara, Bronxville, New York

"We bought the Maverick as a second car when a tree fell on our import. Maverick handles better and feels solid and safe on the road. When I hit a bump in the other car it was like going over a mountain. Maverick really flattens them out and I'm getting 25 miles to the gallon."

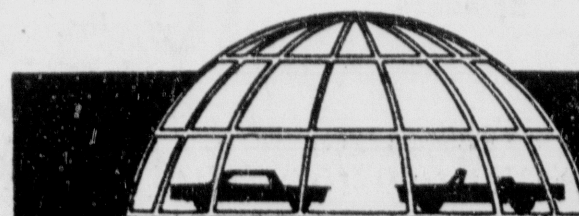

Mr. Jack Orben, Computer Specialist, White Plains, New York

"Everybody keeps coming over to look at it. The other night three cars stopped. We thought we had company. Everyone in our neighborhood says for the price it's unbelievable. It looks like it cost much more."

Mrs. Robert J. Stalz, Deer Park, New York

SOLOS AT 16 — Bruce Kellerhouse, energetic, red-headed, tall, air-minded youth has been flying since he became 13 years of age. He had looked forward the last three years to the day when he could take off from the Kingston-Ulster Airport on Flatbush Road on his solo flight. That day came recently when he reached the age of 16 and to mark the birthday he went to the airport operated by Carroll Air Service and prepared the light plane for his greatest venture. He made it successfully, flying around the area on his solo in the air. Kellerhouse is the son of Mrs. Joan Cramer, RD 1, Box 68, Kingston. His home is almost opposite the airport and not a day passes but Kellerhouse is on the field to take to the air with friends. He is now working for a pilot's license. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Set Programs For Sr. Citizens

KINGSTON The Senior Citizens Lounge continues to offer a variety of programs, and people from Kerhonkson, Hurley, Rosendale as well as from the areas closer in town.

On May 28 Mrs. William A. Studwell will show slides of a trip to India during the summer of 1968. On this trip she and the Rev. Mr. Studwell were tour guides for a group of teenage travelers, two of whom were from Kingston. The trip was planned to provide these young people with opportunity to get to know people in India and not only in the South of India but the north which is less well known to the average traveler.

All Senior Citizens of Ulster County are invited to this meeting at 2 p.m. at 94 North Front St.

The lounge is open from Monday to Friday from 10 to 5 with scheduled activities planned on Tuesday and Wednesdays. A number of bus trips are being planned and will be announced during the next week.

Amnesty Granted College Rebels Hit by Brydges

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — College administrators should stop granting amnesty to students involved in disorders and cease thinking that campuses are sanctuaries from the law, the State Senate majority leader says.

Sen. Earl W. Brydges (R-)

Niagara Falls) commented Saturday night to the convention of the State Volunteer Fire Police Association in nearby Wright's Corners.

Brydges noted the recent enactment of state laws banning unauthorized firearms from campuses and requiring college administrators to submit plans on how they would cope with disorders.

But, he added, "it always has been arson to burn buildings, kidnapping to hold hostages and at least malicious mischief to cause damage."

District attorneys, he said, had "a tremendous obligation" to investigate campus disorders and prosecute those responsible. Fire policemen direct traffic at fire scenes and perform other auxiliary police duties.

Volunteers Are Sought In Marbletown

Families in the Marbletown-Hurley area are presently being sought to entertain needy children for a two week period from July 30 to August 13.

The Town of Marbletown will be one of the many "Friendly Towns" in a seven state region participating in the 91st annual Fresh Air Fund which arranges summer vacations in the country for the underprivileged children of New York City.

Approximately 15,000 children of all colors and creeds are selected for the program solely on the basis of economic need by more than eighty social agencies in the metropolitan area.

The Town of Marbletown, newly designated by the Fresh Air Fund, will receive ten children. Serving as co-chairmen for the Marbletown Fresh Air fund Committee are Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Diamond and Mr. and Mrs. William Davenport. The sponsoring families will provide the children with food, care, and summer fun. The Fresh Air Fund meets the cost of the child's transportation, medical expenses, and liability insurance. The local families selected for the program will be able to specify the age of the boy or girl they wish to entertain. The closing date for applications is July 7.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened mixed today in moderately active trading.

Economic news will likely be the major influence in the list, at least until President Nixon confers with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu early next month. A method of getting the Paris peace talks moving is expected to be of top priority at the discussion. The economic news appears mixed. Machine tool ordering climbed sharply last month but industry steel ordering slowed up the past week.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator showed a gain of 0.05 per cent on 309 issues on the tape. There were 123 advances and 105 declines.

Electronics were mixed, but oils and steels showed scattered strength. Litton jumped 1% in the electronics, but Admiral and Westinghouse fell 1/4 and 1/2, respectively. RCA gained 1/2 with IBM 1 higher.

Occidental rose 1/2 among the oils, while Atlantic Richfield held unchanged. Jersey Standard dipped 1/4. Gulf added 1/4. In the steels, U.S. steel picked up 1/4, with Bethlehem up a like amount.

Chrysler rose 3/4 among the motors, but Ford slid 1/4. American Telephone dipped 1/4.

Tourway Report By HRVC Due On Tuesday

WEST POINT John McInerney, an architect-planner with the Hudson River Valley Commission, will report on the progress of the proposed Hudson River Tourway Tuesday as part of the Natural Beauty Commission's Scenic Roads and Environment meeting at the Hotel Thayer, West Point.

The day-long meeting will center on the environmental qualities of Westchester, Putnam, Rockland, Orange, Dutchess and Ulster Counties, as well as New York City and Long Island.

The Hudson River Tourway, which the HRVC is preparing as a 1,000-mile network of existing roads, will connect historic and recreational attractions, State Parks and scenic areas throughout the Valley in a coordinated fashion.

The roads being proposed for the Tourway are being chosen for their scenic values as well as driver convenience. A major goal of the Tourway is to encourage improvement of the environmental qualities of its routes.

McInerney's presentation Tuesday will cover Rockland and Orange County sections of the proposed Tourway.

Greene Boy Critical in Unusual Mishap

GREENVILLE A 14-year-old Greene County boy was in critical condition at Albany Medical Center Hospital Sunday, suffering a compound depressed fracture of the left temple as the result of an unusual accident which occurred on County Route 50 in this township.

Leeds State Police said Michael Kiley, of Main Street, this village was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital in Catskill after the accident Friday afternoon, and later transferred to the Albany hospital in critical condition.

According to State Police investigators, the boy was a passenger in a car driven by Linda Reilly, 18, of Hannacroix, when he stuck his head through the right rear window. As the car passed along the highway the boy's head hit a tall iron stake marker, causing the severe injuries.

Other passengers in the car were Linda Harr of Freehold and Margaret Murphy of Greenville.

Leeds troopers also investigated a two-car accident on Route 45 in Durham at 12:50 a.m. Sunday. They said Stanley M. Borgen, 19, of RD 1, Athens, was driving along the highway when headlights of an oncoming vehicle obstructed his vision, and his car hit a parked vehicle owned by Leroy Cleveland, Rt. 81, East Durham. Cleveland was cited by troopers for parking on a highway.

Theresa Greney, 18, of East Durham, a passenger in the Borgen car sustained lacerations of the forehead.

U.S. Aid of School Projects May Be Eliminated June 30

Prospects for continued funding of Title II ESEA (Library improvement), and Title III NDEA (Critical Subject Area Materials and Equipment) are bleak. Congress apparently is willing to let these programs die as of June 30.

David Cunningham, administrative assistant of Saugerties Schools states: "Since its inception in 1965, ESEA Title II has provided children in the Saugerties Central Schools district a total of $28,800 worth of library books and printed materials. Because of this aid our school district has been able to develop its library program to a satisfactory minimum level. The district has maintained its local effort in library expenditures, and by the opening of school this coming September, each elementary school will be operating its own library facility. Three years ago the secondary library books and materials were divided and separate senior and junior high school libraries were established.

"The loss of ESEA Title II money this coming year will make it difficult for us to continue to maintain an adequate program of development.

"Title III NDEA is a program which has provided schools money to improve the standards of equipment and materials in such critical subject areas as science, mathematics, history, civics, geography, economics, modern foreign language, English, reading, and industrial arts.

"Since 1964 the Saugerties Central School has received a total of $63,806 in NDEA money for purchase of equipment and materials. The loss of this assistance will be a serious one, and will slow hoped-for improvements.

"Another federal project area, ESEA Title I (Assistance to disadvantaged children) seems to be relatively safe at the time of this writing, but year-to-year funding has always varied. From its inception in 1965 to the current school year, children in our district have benefited to the tune of $125,270 in such services as psychological, speech therapy, health, and guidance.

"One can't help but wonder if the apparent fate of ESEA Title II and NDEA Title III will not also become the fate of ESEA Title I in the not too distant future.

Doctor O.K.'s This Hemorrhoid Treatment For N.J. Couple's Son

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doctor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

CO-CHAIRMEN — Mrs. Jules Viglielino (L) and Mrs. Tony Robinson, co-chairmen of the Great Expectations booth of Woodstock Library Fair scheduled July 18 announced plans this week for the placement of the popular booth at the library grounds. Many awards are planned for the booth this year, the co-chairmen said. They stressed that nearly half of the actual operating expenses of the library each year come from the proceeds of the fair. Kingston Ranks Fifth in Full Value School Taxes

ALBANY
A comparison of full value school tax rates in 60 upstate cities showed Kingston ranking fifth from the top, according to a study issued today by the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, a private tax research organization.

The rate for the Kingston School District the survey reported is $21.84 per $1,000 full value for the fiscal year ending in 1969. The actual tax rate paid, however, is based on assessed value. For 1968-69 that actual tax rate for school purposes was $57.47 per $1,000 assessed value compared with $50.25 for 1967-68, an increase of $7.22.

School tax rates increased in 54 of the State's 60 cities from 1967-68 to 1968-69, remained the same in two cities and decreased in four cities.

The survey pointed out that the tax rate on assessed value is not a reliable basis for comparison among cities because of variation from city to city in the percentage of full value at which property is assessed. Use of the full value rate adjusts for variations in assessing practices and is considered the best available measure for comparative purposes.

The survey computed full value tax rates based on equalization rates determined by the New York State Board of Equalization and Assessment. These equalization rates are the percentage of market value at which taxable real property is assessed. They represent the average for all assessments in each city and do not necessarily apply to individual parcels of property. An equalization rate of 100, for example, means assessments are made at full value, a rate of 50 indicates assessments at half value.

The highest full value tax rate was in Peekskill where the rate totaled $24.19 per $1,000 full value. Next highest were Long Beach with $22.94 per $1,000 full value and New Rochelle with $22.56.

The lowest full value tax rate was recorded by Buffalo at $9.51 per $1,000 full value. Lackawanna with $10.91 ranked second from the bottom and Watervliet with $10.98 was third lowest.

Poughkeepsie's full value tax rate per $1,000 was listed at $19.48, or $1.36 below Kingston. The wide variations in tax rates in this city by city comparison are due to many factors: differences in the amount of taxable real property per pupil; amount of state and federal funds received by school districts; differences in the number and cost of programs; salary schedules for teachers and administrators; pupil-teacher ratios; and the amount of funds from non-property tax sources.

The research group pointed out that this study of city school tax rates is intended to show the extent of the variation in tax rates but it does not provide a basis for conclusions as to the causes of those variations.

Nilagiri Express—28 Miles in 6 Hours—to Fade Away

OOTACAMUND, South India (AP) — One of the world's most picturesque railway lines—the 28-mile Nilagiri—Blue Mountain Express—is soon to fade into history, a victim of modernization and a lack of passenger traffic.

The Nilagiri Express once was a very popular line, hauling British rulers, Maharajas and an assortment of their followers up from the intense heat of the South Indian plains to the cool, green, hill station, Ootacamund.

Run on a track, similar to what is called a cog railway in other parts of the world, the train climbs from virtual sea level to 7,000 feet in its 28-mile run.

The train passes through 16 tunnels, stops at 10 stations, averages 5 miles an hour, and during the rainy season a man has to walk in front of the train making sure that the rails are intact and that no boulders have fallen across them.

No one remembers who first thought of laying a railroad track between the hot little town of Mettupalayam in Coimbatore district and this "Queen of the South," popularly called Ooty. But records show the suggestion first came in 1854.

Remained An Idea
The suggestion, however, remained an idea for nearly four decades, partly because of the technical problems involved.

Cost was another problem. Original estimates put it at

Paper Boy Has Feel Of Route

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Eleven-year-old Mitchell Malone knows the 35 customers on his evening paper route by their "hedges, fences, or how short the grass is cut."

Mitchell also admits he sometimes counts his steps so he'll know exactly where to throw the paper.

Being blind is only a small handicap for him. During his several months on the job, The Phoenix Gazette said, Mitchell has never received a "kick"—a complaint from a customer who hasn't received the paper.

After getting out of his sixth grade class in the afternoon, Mitchell rides the school bus to the spot where he and the other carriers get their papers.

Then he walks his route alone, keeping one foot on grass and the other on the sidewalk.

"I know the houses by hedges, fences or how short the grass is cut," he said. "Sometimes I also count my steps."

At one house he puts the paper in a mail box. There's a dog inside the fenced yard.

"The dog's a good friend of mine," Mitchell said. "But he doesn't like newspapers. He chews 'em up."

Mitchell, who has been blind since a brain tumor was removed at age 6, does have one problem. Like other carrier boys in his suburban area, he likes to ride a bicycle.

When his mother, Mrs. Neal Malone, recently caught him on a bike, the paperboy found himself in the doghouse.

Esopus Man Cited on Five Traffic Charges

KINGSTON

Clyde R. Pugh, 48, of Box 193, Esopus, was arrested Friday night by police on five vehicle and traffic law violations, after his car was involved in a mishap on Henry Street near Broadway.

Police booked Pugh for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, being an unlicensed operator, driving while his license was revoked, leaving the scene of an accident, and failure to produce a registration certificate.

An accident report at police headquarters noted that Pugh was driving on Henry Street when his car hit the left rear of a parked vehicle owned by Adam J. Klonowski of 27 Jarrold Street. The force of the impact pushed the parked vehicle 10 feet, according to police.

Pugh was picked up on Greenhill Avenue about an hour after the accident. His case is pending in City Court.

Police also summoned Robert W. Rutledge, 23, of 23 Rogers Street, on charges of reckless driving, making unnecessary noise with the tires of his car, a violation of the City Code, and causing unnecessary smoke with his vehicle.

Aux. Police Drill Tonight

KINGSTON

Members of the Kingston-Ulster County CD Auxiliary Police will conduct a special traffic control session tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the parking lot at the rear of Kingston High School.

In case of inclement weather, the drill will be shifted to the meeting rooms, Moose Hall, 82 Prince Street.

The regular unit's meeting at 9 o'clock will feature final instructions for parade duty on Memorial Day.

$600,000. It was later revised downward to $316,000. But the capital could not be floated in London.

Briton Advances Money
Finally, a British resident of Nilagiri, Richard Wooly, advanced the money on the condition he would get the contract to construct the railroad and be its manager.

It was in the early 1890s that people of the surrounding villages heard the first deafening explosion. The Nilagiris—Blue Mountain—were being dynamited to drill 16 tunnels.

It took six years to construct the line, which, according to the present chief engineer of Southern Railways, T. Komaleswaran, still is a unique feat of engineering. Six tiny cars are pulled by one, and sometimes two communicate a steep gradient.

All Express Stops
While the train timetable shows 10 halts on the way, the train stops oftener than that, usually after every 20 minutes.

Sometimes, the conductor will stop the train and request the passengers to alight so as to enter the tiny steam engine to the track, and on those occasions the train would be delayed for as long as it took the conductor, the driver and some of the nonroyal passengers to shout them off the track.

Punctuality apart, the Nilagiri Express trains have a record of safety, unparalleled in India. In all its 70 years there has not been a single accident.

But all this will soon pass into history. The government-owned Indian Railways, said to be the biggest network in Asia, has been expanding and modernizing itself to become a fast mode of transport.

And so it will soon be goodbye to the Nilagiri Express. Its picture is doomed to the scrap pile. Not turesque crawl will be seen no only is this one-time efficient more, its magnificent clut-clack carrier too slow for the 1960s, will be consigned to memory.

Student Body President Seeks Peaceful Chance

By BRUCE KAUFMAN

NEW PALTZ — The newly elected president of the Student Government Association at State University College, New Paltz, is a pretty, dark-haired coed, who recognizes a need for "considerable change" at the college.

Jane Stabile, a 19-year-old sophomore majoring in sociology, also recognizes that change requires more than just an alteration of the structure.

"It also requires the modification of attitudes, because a change in the structure without a corresponding change in attitudes will not bring about academic reform," she says.

For this reason Miss Stabile disdains the use of force in order to bring about change and instead favors "cooperative reform."

Although her term as president does not begin until the next academic year, Miss Stabile has already begun to apply her leadership energies to the goal of cooperative reform.

On Wednesday, she chaired a meeting attended by about 500 students and faculty members to discuss a student initiated proposal that would allow individual faculty members to make final examinations optional.

The proposal was approved by acclamation at the meeting and on Thursday was endorsed by the Faculty Council.

Miss Stabile said that she was pleased with the results of the faculty student discussion noting that it was the first such session ever held to discuss an educational issue.

"I hope that this will lead to an intensive campus-wide multi-logue during the fall semester," she said.

Miss Stabile, who would like to teach sociology and write when she completes her studies at New Paltz, says that her "ultimate goal" as student body president will be to strive for an "educational environment consisting of all sectors of the college community."

To achieve this goal she plans to establish an advisory committee to formulate a proposal for the re-structuring of student government and to expand the scope of its activities.

Miss Stabile would also like to improve campus communications by attempting to establish a campus radio station and setting up liaison committees with the various political and social groups on campus.

Miss Stabile was elected president of the SGA in a campus-wide election held last week, handily defeating her six male opponents.

She was running as a candidate on the Provisional Student Government slate, and ad hoc group organized around goals similar to her own.

The P.S.G. considered "moderate" by campus standards, captured 14 of the 15 elective student government offices.

Board of Education, Glasco School — Health —

President Arthur F. Simmons said work at the Mt. Marion school is almost 100 per cent complete and the Glasco School expansion is progressing rapidly. Site work, however, has dragged at both schools and board members expressed serious concern for the lack of progress in that area.

At his report at the regular board meeting, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, said teacher recruitment was far in advance in relation to previous years. The superintendent said that he had hired 30 new teachers to date, that an additional three had returned from maternity leave, and that two other vacancies had been filled by transfers within the district. A teacher recruitment brochure, which is now being used by the Saugerties schools, has received a considerable amount of attention throughout the state.

Plan Student Store

A student store was authorized beginning September 1969 for the Junior Senior High School. It will be developed in conjunction with the distributive education classes and will not be operated in competition with local merchants. The store will be self-supporting and will be used for instructional purposes.

The conciliator of the State Public Employees Relations Board in the negotiations between Saugerties Board of Education and Saugerties Teachers Association has requested that both sides desist from further publicity in the matter until after proceedings have been completed.

The request was made by Dr. Egon Ploger at an executive session of the board earlier this week.

It was announced that the Saxton schoolhouse and site have been advertised for sale, which will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. on the school site. A request from the Saugerties Recreation Committee for the use of the school bus during the summer months in the recreation program is being considered.

Henry Breitenbach of High Woods was elected to fill the unexpired term of Harry Anderson, who resigned as of May 20. Anders had accepted an administrative position in a Connecticut school system. Breitenbach is a veteran Board of Education member, having served from July 1961-1967.

A summer school program for 1969 was presented by Dr. George Hamaty and, upon the recommendation of the superintendent, was approved by the board. Personal shorthand, personal typing, and driver training will be offered for one-half credit each. Courses in reading improvement, mathematics improvement, and English improvement, without credit, will be offered to a limited number of Junior High School pupils and some of the present sixth grade pupils. A new addition to the summer school program is a course in instrumental music. The instructor will spend a three-hour period on a one day per week basis at each of the four elementary schools and the Junior High School.

List Assignment

The board approved assignment of special teachers as recommended by the superintendent, for the 1969-70 school year as follows:

Main Street School — Physical Education — Henry

Woodstock Drug Meet: May Create a Council

The possible formation of a Community Study Council on Narcotics in Woodstock was the result of an open public meeting for a discussion on the narcotics problem held Thursday at St. Gregory's Parish Hall.

Additional information from the State Narcotics Control Commission regarding the formation of a narcotics study council.

Prime movers in the group included Woodstock Town Justice Edgar Leaycraft and Dr. Norman Burg, local physician. Other interested parents, teachers and public spirited laymen joined the group.

He noted that the focus of his office is at this time on educational and preventive work with communities and schools. After his comments he presented a movie, Three, dealing with the narcotic addict.

AF Officer Shoes Horses In Spare Time

ENID, Okla. (AP) — He's an Air Force officer by profession, but Lt. Col. Peter Van Brussel in his spare time shoes horses.

The colonel manages to find many customers wherever he goes. At Vance Air Force Base here, where he commands the 357th Squadron, Van Brussel spends most of his unusual hobby-time fitting shoes on friends' steeds.

"I've never been anywhere I couldn't find a horse to shoe," he says, "and that includes Korea during the conflict."

Van Brussel learned the art of horseshoeing from his father as a teen-ager in Chicago. His father's father before him was a farrier in Holland and the colonel's brother keeps the family profession alive shoeing horses at Florida race tracks.

There's more to shoeing a horse than just fitting a piece of metal to a hoof for protection, Van Brussel explains.

"People don't realize," he says, "that selecting the right shoe for the horse is everything."

"The shoe is designed to protect the hoof, but the shoe can also be used to correct injuries and even lameness. The right shoe can also make a horse walk in a certain way."

For example, says Van Brussel, putting additional weight at the front of a shoe will cause a Tennessee Walker to reach out for the long stride he needs, and added weight at the back of the hoof will cause a prancing horse to lift his foot straight up, adding to his appearance.

Van Brussel has made a science of his horseshoeing hobby. While in college, he made a time and motion study of the farrier's trade.

"Blacksmithing is a strenuous occupation," he says, "and every motion must be as simple and necessary as possible or the blacksmith will be exhausted by the end of the day."

Van Brussel does his blacksmithing on a homemade forge he purchased several years ago and an anvil like the one his father used. He says the ball-peen hammer he used "does the work for me."

"I don't grip this hammer hard or hit it hard," he says. "I hit it and let it bounce on the anvil."

Another piece of advice from the colonel to farrier-trainees is: "When you're shoeing a horse, don't lean into him. If you do he'll lean back against you and before you know it you're supporting him. That gets pretty tiring after a while."

The State of New York National Bank's folly.

At first glance it might seem like folly, and a waste of good plastic.

To come out with another credit card at this stage of the game, when people are walking around with pockets full of credit cards.

One fact convinced us.

BankAmericard is accepted over more counters in this country and abroad than any other card in the world.

Counters in stores, hotels, at airlines, rent a cars, and so on.

The idea of a credit card is to get you immediate credit from people who don't know you.

In this respect, BankAmericard is the best there is. It's the biggest credit card in the world.

It makes getting cash pretty easy too. You can walk into any one of over 10,000 banking offices in this country and overseas and get a cash advance of up to $150. Or the equivalent in pounds, yen, etc.

It's also easy to get an application for BankAmericard.

At any one of the innumerable places around town that have a BankAmericard decal on the front door.

Or at any of our nine offices.

Does it make sense to have a credit card that will be accepted at fewer places than BankAmericard?

You'll find the biggest credit card in the world at The State of New York National Bank.

Vegetables Can Have Zest in a Heart - Helping Diet

Moderate changes in the typical American diet can reduce the risk of heart attack, says the Mid-Hudson Heart Association. Medical and nutrition authorities of the Association recommend a change to fat-controlled, low cholesterol meals. Today's article, third in a series, discusses the preparation of vegetables and polyunsaturated oil dressings.

An endless variety of vegetables can be eaten in a heart-helping diet. Herbs and spices can give added zest to cooked vegetables, and when used in combination with polyunsaturated oils in sauces and dressings, can provide subtle flavorings while avoiding the use of butter, cream and egg yolks.

Egg yolks are high in cholesterol, and butter and cream are high in saturated fat. These contribute to the build-up of cholesterol levels in the blood and can speed the development of arteriosclerosis, a form of hardening of the arteries which underlies most heart attacks, says the Mid-Hudson Heart Association.

Polyunsaturated fats, used in cooking vegetables and in sauces and dressings, may help lower cholesterol levels by helping the body to eliminate excess, newly-formed cholesterol. Polyunsaturated fats usually are liquid oils of vegetable origin, such as corn, cottonseed, safflower, sesame seed, soybean and sunflower seed oils. Olive oil and peanut oil are low in polyunsaturated fats and neither raise nor lower blood cholesterol.

Here are some recipes for cooking vegetables and making sauces:

SEASONED BROCCOLI

1 (1-pound) bunch fresh broccoli, or
1 (10 ounce) package frozen broccoli
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Salt and pepper as desired
3 tablespoons water
1/4 teaspoon dill seed
If using fresh broccoli, trim and wash but do not dry. Measure oil into a saucepan or skillet with a tight-fitting cover. Add broccoli, dry mustard, dill, salt, pepper and water; cover. Cook over medium to low heat about 15 minutes, or until tender, separating frozen vegetables with a fork during first few minutes of cooking. Shake covered pan several times to prevent sticking. Makes 3 servings.

RICE AND MUSHROOM PILAU

1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
One 1 pound can (2 cups)

canned tomatoes
1/2 cup water
1 cup uncooked rice
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Few grains pepper

Heat oil in large, deep skillet. Add mushrooms, onions and green pepper and cook slowly until tender and lightly browned. Add tomatoes and water; bring to boil. Add rice and remaining ingredients. When mixture boils again turn heat low. Cover and cook, about 30 minutes or until rice is tender. Makes about 6 servings.

Note: If drier rice is desired, cover may be removed for last 5 minutes of cooking.

NEVER FAIL MAYONNAISE
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash red pepper
1 egg white
1 cup vegetable oil
4 1/2 teaspoons vinegar

Stir sugar, dry mustard, salt, and red pepper together in bowl. Add egg white; beat well with rotary beater. Beating constantly, add half the oil, a little at a time. Continue beating while adding 1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar; then the remaining oil, a little at a time, and then the remaining 3 teaspoons vinegar. Makes about 1 cup.

BASIC FRENCH DRESSING
2/3 cup vegetable oil
1/3 cup vinegar or lemon juice
Seasonings to taste
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Combine ingredients in jar and shake well. Vary seasonings to taste with dry mustard, minced onion or garlic, etc. Makes 1 cup.

For additional recipes and information on a heart-helping diet, ask the Mid-Hudson Heart Association, 72 Main Street, Kingston, for the companion booklets, "The Way to a Man's Heart" and "Recipes for Fat-Controlled, Low-Cholesterol Meals."

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute
GIFTS OF FOOD NOT IN GOOD TASTE.

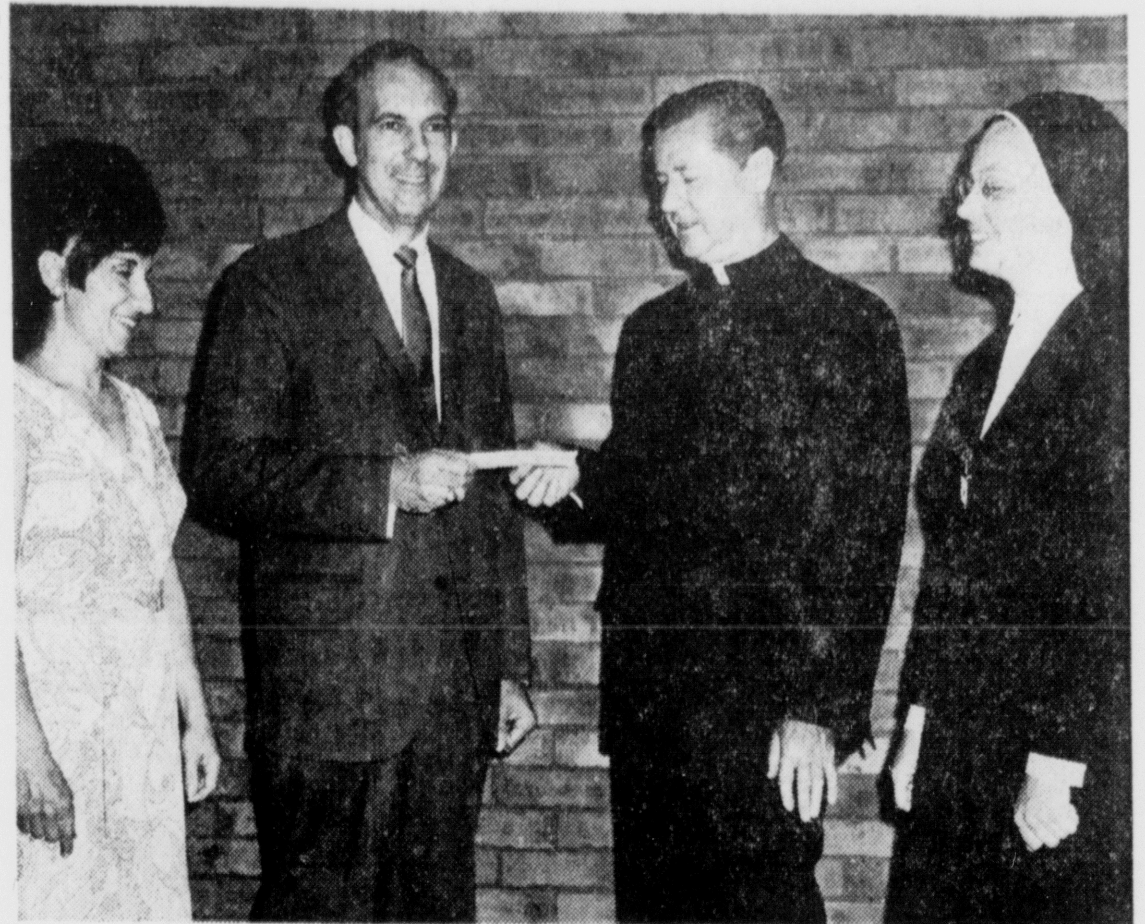

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to the writer.

Dear Mrs. Post: When several friends are invited to dinner, what is the rule about descending with edible gifts? Just recently when attending a dinner, three of the guests came with some kind of cake. This is embarrassing to the guests who come empty-handed. Also, it puts the hostess on the spot since the donors remark that the others should sample their baking. That results in the dessert which she has prepared remaining untouched.

This annoys me to no end, and has on occasion ruined my dessert plans. I can very well see the desire to bring or spend something if a weekend was spent, but not just for a little dinner party.—Mrs. A.D.

Dear Mrs. D.: No matter how kind the thought, it is not in good taste, without warning, to take a gift of food to a dinner hostess. It does put her "on the spot" especially if it is a food which should be eaten immediately. Frequently the speciality does not fit in at all well with the meal the hostess has planned, and yet she feels she must offer it, or hurt her guests' feelings.

There is no need to take a present at all when you are invited to dine, and those who have not done so are often embarrassed by those that do. If you feel you must, I suggest that you send flowers beforehand.

CHECK PRESENTATION — At the final meeting of the school year held Wednesday, May 21, Coleman Parents Association presented a check in the amount of $7200 to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph J. McCarthy, director, and Sister Mary Gerald, principal, John A. Coleman High School. The check was realized from various social events sponsored by Parents Association during the past school year. Presentation was made by the outgoing presidents of Parents Association, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saccoman.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We have three small girls and they all love their little dollies. My husband is a child psychologist and he taught me something that I think should be passed on to other mothers.

Each daughter has her favorite dolly with which she sleeps at night. They also have a multitude of doll clothes, including nightgowns which I made from some scraps of flannel.

After I bathe the girls at night and put on their nightgowns, I let them go in and pick up their favorite doll, powder them and dress them for bed. It is amazing how much quicker each little "dolly" herself will go to sleep.

This is teaching a young daughter the mother instinct, my husband says if you let your little girls dress their doll at night, then they can go to bed and sleep peacefully.

It's great training. After all, they do sleep together....

Psychologist's wife

I agree with him wholeheartedly. That's the way I trained our daughter.

Dear Heloise: While watching my husband (a draftsman) draw house plans, I discovered a great way to arrange my furniture with much less work.

I asked him to make a scale drawing of each room and each piece of furniture. I cut out the furniture and moved it around on the drawing of the room until I found the arrangement I liked best.

Then we moved the furniture to match the scale drawing. It really saves a lot of temper flareups and backaches! It's easy enough that even an amateur like myself can do it.

Mrs. Charles Tucker

Dear Heloise:

During the time of antiquing everything from A to Z, my husband and I have found nylon net excellent for removing the glaze.

We rub the piece to be finished with the net until we have removed just the right amount.

We also use it on newly varnished pieces to produce a rubbed effect even on satin varnish.

It is more effective than sandpaper and not nearly as hard on the hands.

Mrs. John Pugliese, Girls State chairman, will present the Girls State award to Miss Sheila Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon of Fairway Drive, Kingston, on June 12 at 6:30 p.m. Miss Dixon is a John A. Coleman junior and will be sent to State University College at New Paltz for an expense-paid week. At Girls State the girls learn the fundamentals and ways by which the government was founded and the manner in which it is operated. The banquet will take place at Governor Clinton Hotel.

Plans were made for the annual banquet to be held at Cuneo's Restaurant, this city, on June 17 at 7 p.m., at which time Mrs. Henry Schmidt, a gold star mother, will be presented with a life membership. Mrs. Schmidt, a devoted and faithful member for 15 years, is the mother of Lt. Henry Schmidt who was killed serving his country in Korea. Mrs. William Price will be installed as president of the Auxiliary by Mrs. Francis Dempsey, county chairman. Mrs. Price is also a gold star mother, having lost her only son, Cpl. William Price, during World War II, in New Guinea.

The year's past activities were reviewed by retiring president, Mrs. George Heppner, and included the September rummage sale held at the Post home; October card party; preparation for funds and gifts for Christmas Gift Shop at Albany's Veteran's Hospital which were distributed during December, along with lap robes made by an Auxiliary member with materials furnished by the Auxiliary. The annual holiday party took place at the home of the president due to the fire at the Post Home.

A linen project was started in January to raise funds. In February a check was sent to the Veteran's Hospital to purchase rocking chairs for the mental patients. In March, meetings once again were held at the Post Home which had been newly repaired and decorated; plans were made by the Auxiliary to furnish refreshments for the grand opening. Commander Everette Emmick was presented a check by the Unit President to help cover expenses at the home. Mrs. Kenneth Lowe Jr. was the recipient of the linen award which was presented in April.

Throughout the year, 25 local organizations were recipients of donations by the Unit. More than 3,000 hours were spent by Auxiliary members doing community work, church work, Girl Scout work, and Auxiliary work in both of the local hospitals. One member, Mrs. John Weber, donated hundreds of hours rolling cancer pads and bandages. The sick were also remembered by visits and sunshine baskets.

At the concluding of the meeting, Mrs. Heppner expressed appreciation to the Auxiliary members, the Legionnaires, area business men, local radio stations, The Kingston Daily Freeman, and local residents for the co-operation extended her during her term of office.

KEY TO CITY — Students from Mrs. Steven Krosner's Third Grade class at West Hurley School recently visited the mayor at City Hall, in conjunction with their studies of the history of Kingston, and the businesses and services which Kingston offers its residents. Through slides and tapes, the boys and girls have learned a great deal about the City, taking pictures of what they considered highlights of each place they have visited. Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan is pictured here presenting the key to the city to (l-r) Darryl Franks, Carol Coleman, Terri Crosby, Lorri Light. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Kickers Tie for First Place

MORGAN HILL
Going into Sunday's crucial home final with Newark Sport Club, the Kingston Soccer Club Kickers were looking for some help from German-Americans at Throgs Neck Stadium in the Bronx.

They got it as the Hungarians tied pace setting Hoboken, 2-2, while the Kickers turned back a determined challenge by Newark, 2-0, tie create a tie for first place in the Premier Division standings of the German-American Soccer Association.

But Kingston can win the championship outright while Hoboken can't. The Jersey squad completed its season with 12 wins, 6 ties and 4 losses for 30 points.

Kingston (13-4-4 on the season) can wrap it up Friday when they travel to Spring Valley.

Expect Tough Game

"It's going to be our toughest game of the season," said Manager Bob Graves. "But I think we got the momentum today that should carry us through. Spring Valley has always been tough on its home grounds. It will be no different Memorial Day."

Hungaria's victory kept them in third place, a point behind Hoboken and Kingston.

Lee Roberts put the Kickers on the scoreboard with a direct free kick, seven minutes into the first half and it stayed that way until the 80-minute when three players combined for the second score.

Elliott Pobbi-Asare, the Galloping Ghanian, drilled the second goal, after passes by Pete Kane, a new addition, and Gino Ventriglia set it up.

Newark exerted heavy pressure on the Kingston defense after Roberts' goal, but captain Winnie Soddemann and Karl Von Borkulu anchored a fine defensive effort.

Dominate Offense

The Kickers dominated the offense in the second half, as the visitors unleashed some fine passing but lacked velocity in the forward line. They managed one shot against the crossbar in the last minute.

Newark goalie Bob Deck had 8 saves, while Bill Newmerz-chy needed only three for the Kickers. Newark had 5 corner kicks, Kingston 4. The Kickers were awarded eight free kicks, Newark two.

Because of the Referees Association strike in New York, no league officials were assigned. Both teams, however, agreed on veteran Heinz Ufig of Kingston as the arbiter.

New Paltz Wins Game Over Prep

NEW PALTZ

George Galane slugged 3-for-4 to pace the New Paltz College Freshman baseball squad to a 12-1 win over Storm King Prep in the season finale for the Young Hawks at home. New Paltz finishes the season with a 3-4 mark.

The home side exploded for 9 runs in the first stanza of the 7 inning contest, with Sandy Strauss scoring twice in the inning. Mark Gerolmo went 2-for-4 and tallied the only marker for the losers.

Charlie Silverberg picked up his fourth win of the season, allowing just one hit in his four-inning stint. Strauss came in the fifth to finish up. Mark Herbst was the losing hurler.

Galane's three hits pushed him to the front of the race for the batting crown. Galane took the honors with a .342 mark.

Turbines Disappear

Foyt in Command For the Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The emphasis is back on the drivers for this year's Indianapolis 500, with A.J. Foyt driving from the pole position for a record fourth victory in the Memorial Day race.

The turbine car, which came close to winning the last two years, and part of the 500's international flavor disappeared Sunday as the starting field of 33 cars was completed.

This year's only turbine entry qualified at 156,440 miles per hour, four m.p.h. slower than any other car, and it was only a matter of time until it was bumped from the field.

Foyt won the pole with a speed of 170,568 m.p.h.

The number of foreign drivers in this year's race shrank to two when the builder and designer of the Lotus cars, Colin Chapman of Britain, withdrew the last of the Lotuses, driven by Jochen Rindt of Austria and 1966 Indy winner Graham Hill of Britain. They made no qualifying attempts.

"It's tragic, I think," said Hill. "Lotus put so much time into these cars."

Dennis Hulme of New Zealand and Jack Brabham of Australia are the only foreign drivers in the race.

Chapman said the Lotuses were withdrawn because of concern over the safety of their wheel hubs.

Yancey Took Pressure And $23,000 Payoff

ATLANTA (AP) — Bert Yancey can quit worrying about faltering under pressure on the golf tour.

He doesn't have to worry much about paying his bills, either.

Yancey never wavered Sunday in the pressure-packed finish of the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament, sinking three clutch putts that gave him a $23,000 paycheck.

The former West Point cadet, who suffered a nervous breakdown at the academy, rammed home a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole of the final round to tie Australia's Bruce Devlin.

Yancey rolled in another 10-footer for a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff, with Devlin knocking in a six-footer.

Then Yancey closed out the battle on the second extra hole with a seven-footer for a birdie that he said left him "feeling like a millionaire."

Yancey said before the start of the final round that he has been playing well recently except at the finish, when the pressure got to him.

"But I think I've gotten tough enough inside now to win it," he said.

The 30-year-old Floridian said after the frantic finish that he had eased the pressure by forgetting about his rival.

"I don't look back any more like I used to," he said. "I don't watch the scoreboards to see how anyone else is doing."

"I've quit worrying about the other players, and I concentrate on what I'm doing."

"That way, I'm not as susceptible to as much pressure as I used to be," Yancey said.

"And those three putts I made were almost unbelievable for a putter like me," added the slender veteran, who boosted his 1969 earnings to $50,323.

Devlin, who blew a two-stroke lead by bogeying the 16th and 17th holes, said "I didn't lose—Bert won."

Devlin had reeled off four straight birdies to take the lead before he faltered on two straight holes. He sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th to tie, with both Devlin and Yancey shooting 69s for 72-hole totals of 277.

Another foreigner Bruce Crampton of Australia, claimed fourth at 279 despite a closing 73.

Arnold Palmer finished with 287 and Jack Nicklaus had a 292 with both shooting 72s at the finish.

Mexico Blasts Australia From Davis Cup Contention

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Australian Davis Cup captain Harry Hopman tried psychological warfare and a pair of teenagers, but neither worked. As a result, Australia is out of Davis Cup contention for the first time since 1937.

Mexico, carried along by the brilliant play of 29-year-old Rafael Osuna, defeated Hopman's team 3-2, with Osuna winning the decisive fifth match from Bill Bowrey on Sunday, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3.

Osuna, who had whipped Ray Ruffels on Friday and who teamed with Vicente Zarazua to win Saturday's doubles, had to fight off not only Bowrey in the final, but also stand up to temper tantrums on the court by Hopman, who berated the officials, and by the Australian players in the stands, who got into raging arguments with 3,000 roaring Mexican fans. At one point, Osuna had to go to the public address microphone and plead for quiet.

Hopman, who saw his team lose the Cup to the United States in December, had gambled in the doubles with two teenagers, John Alexander and Phil Dent. Osuna and Zarazua disposed of them in straight sets Saturday. Joaquin Loyo Mayo, an 18-year-old, shared the singles load with Osuna, but lost both his matches, bowing to Ruffels 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 10-8 on Sunday to give the Aussies a 2-2 tie in matches and set up the explosive Osuna-Bowrey final. In the tension-filled third set, with the match tied 1-1 and Osuna fighting his way into the lead, the court twice threatened to erupt in riot.

Ruffels almost got into a fist fight with a group of fans, but the third set, bringing Hopman onto the court for a prolonged argument with the judges. Bowrey joined in, ignoring the pleas of the referee to return to play. Only Osuna's appeal over the public address system ended the thunderous booing and hissing from the stands at the Australians.

Hopman knows that when I get mad I can't play well, and that's the only reason he did all that out on the court, and it's the reason he told his players to act like that. It's just psychological warfare, that's all," said Osuna.

"It was an effort, but I contained myself, and whenever there was trouble I just walked away and concentrated on the next play," Osuna said.

Hopman seemed to confirm Osuna's diagnosis of "psychological warfare" when he said

Nino 2-1 Choice Over Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti moves up to the light heavyweight division Monday night, still maintaining his grip on the world middleweight title, for an international match with Dick Tiger, the durable veteran from war-torn Biafra.

Under the terms of the 10-round match, which call for a weight limit of 168 pounds, the personable Italian's title will not be at stake. Benvenuti probably will come in at about 163 pounds, three over his class limit, and Tiger will be around 168 pounds.

Despite the weight advantage for the 39-year-old Tiger, who has held both the middle and light heavy crowns in his 18-year career, he will be the underdog at about 2-1 against the handsome Latin from Trieste.

The Madison Square Garden match, scheduled for 10 p.m. EDT, will be seen on television in some parts of the nation but not in the New York area. A crowd of 12,000 is expected to pay $150,000 to see the show in person.

Frankie De Paula, Jersey City slugger, was expected to bring in a few extra customers because of his punching power. But De Paula ran into troubles with the law and has been suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission pending disposition of his case.

Instead of De Paula it will be Juarez De Lima of Brazil boxing Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in the 10-round semifinal. Fullmer is rated No. 4 and De Lima No. 5 among Benvenuti's challengers. However, Fullmer was beaten by Nino at San Remo, Italy last December.

Benvenuti, 31, has become a great favorite in New York since the night in 1967 when he upset Emile Griffith and won the 160-pound title.

Chants of "Neneo, Neneo" greet his every punch and fans cluster around his dressing room door for a smile or an autograph. Nino lost the title to Griffith later in 1967, won it back in 1968 and made a successful defense against Fullmer last Dec. 14.

It is about time for him to defend again because his six-month period of grace expires June 14. He is supposed to have signed for a title match by that date. A fourth match with Griffith is a distinct possibility after Emile's recent win over Kitten Hayward.

Nino recently completed a cowboy movie in Spain entitled "Alive or Preferable Dead" and, at 31, may be reaching the stage where he would prefer another way of making a living. In 81 pro fights, since winning the Olympic championship in 1960, he has a 78-21 record with 32 knockouts. He never has been stopped.

Tiger seems to go on and on. Although he is 39 and has been fighting since 1952, he still hopes to get a return match with Bob Fitzsimmons, who stopped him in four even rounds.

Louisville Has One-Game Lead

In other action, Columbus topped Richmond 5-4, Buffalo edged Syracuse 5-2 and Rochester split with Toledo, winning the first 4-2 and dropping the second, 4-2.

Sawyers Lose To John Jay

SAUGERTIES
John Jay High School, Wappingers Falls, defeated Saugerties High School's golf team, 195-205, in finale of the season for the Sawyers. The match, played Friday at the par-36 Sawyerkill Course, represented the end of the initial season of golf at Saugerties. The Sawyers posted a 1-9 seasonal mark.

Steve Benham shot 53, as the first man out for the Sawyers. He was followed by Don Treat at 50, Mike Klinert 52 and Dennis Stencen 50.

Brad Davis was low man for the winners with a 44. Stu Blake had a 51, Ed Newhart 49, and Tim More carded a 51.

After you've paid for it, it starts paying for itself.

We didn't want our bug to be a hog. That's why we made it go about 27 miles to a gallon of gas.

And why we persuaded it to take pints of oil instead of quarts.

And why we gave it an air-cooled engine. (Air is free. Antifreeze isn't.)

And why we put the engine in the back so you get more push from the rear wheels. (And less pull from tow trucks.)

And that's why at trade-in time if things are still the same as they have been, you can count on getting back more of your initial investment of $1799* than practically every other car owner gets of theirs.

After all, why shouldn't the car that's been saving you money while you own it do the same when you sell it?

Overtrick Pace Won by Overcall

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UPI)—Overcall, taking control before the quarter, won the $25,000 Overtrick Pace Saturday night as Roosevelt Raceway concluded its 70-day meeting with an attendance of 32,080.
 Del Insko reined the son of Capetown - Overbid to a 24-length victory in 2:00.4, streaking through the final quarter in :28.4, the fastest closer of the meeting.
 The Billy Haughton stable entry of Nardin's Byrd and Meadow Paige was second and third in the six-horse field.
 The win was the third straight for Overcall, who will start in the $150,000 Yonkers Raceway series beginning June 5.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Lee May, Reds, smashed two home runs for the second straight day and drove in four runs leading Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over the Montreal Expos.
PITCHING — Bob Gibson, Cardinals, limited Los Angeles to six hits and struck out nine, pitching St. Louis to a 4-0 victory over the Dodgers.

MONTICELLO, to six, and two spells of Steve Inokai in the sulky proved time as first mile. Miss Arlene breaking by Heavenly Way to be the speediest of the is a five-year-old daughter of the quintet and made the distance Mohawk Thruway Patricia horse contest. Miss Arlene, in 2:06.3, precisely the same Creed.

Rocky Adios, in a last quarter drive which he ran in :29.3, captured Monticello Raceway's featured pace Saturday night in a mile event completed in 2:02.2.
 Rocky Adios, piloted by Eddie Lohmeyer, Jr., thus added another link to his chain of seven wins previously recorded in 1969. The six-year-old gelded son of Adios-Miss Stone Chief stayed in third position from the starting wire until the field reached the three-quarter pole. Up until that point, the pack had formed itself into a running combination of Speedy Diller, Steven Frost, Rocky Adios and Kammy's A. Oakley. The fifth and sixth horses, Niagara Ace and Freight Comet, remained in their fixed positions, too, almost as if they were painted on the track.

Speedy Diller took the field through the quarter, half and three quarter in fractional times of :31.2, 1:02.3 and 1:32.4.
 Rocky Adios then took command, brushing past both Speedy Diller and Steven Frost, Speedy Diller, Don Corneau the driver, placed, and Steven Frost, Robert Schlosser driving, took third. Nevele Way was a late scratch.

Saturday night's daily double at the Mighty M produced a 3 and 2 combination worth $15.80 to two dollar ticket holders. The first race was taken by Joshua, a seven-year-old horse by Sampson Hanover—Miss Laura, driven by his trainer, Greg MacDonald. Greg piloted Joshua around the mile in 2:06.3.
 Two late scratches in the second race, Frank A. and Filing Time, reduced the field

Who Will Replace Super Stars?

By STEVE SNIDER
 UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Maybe the era of baseball's super star is drawing to a close.
 Looking over the young bunch, it's hard to tell where the next one will bloom—if at all.

There is, however, considerable evidence baseball will be in good hands when the aging "super" like Willie Mays, Hank Aaron and Frank Robinson have gone the way of Mickey Mantle.

The new stars are on the wv.
 They include rookies and younger players coming into their own as sophomores, juniors and seniors. They're a slightly different breed from those who rose to super-status when there were only 16 major league teams instead of 24 but many are carrying solid credentials that may take them close to super-stardom at least.

Jones Stars
 Count among them fourth-year man Cleon Jones of the New York Mets, third-year man Red Carew of the Minnesota Twins, rookie Bobby Murcer of the New York Yankees, sophomores Carlos May of the Chicago White Sox and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati and a dozen or more in between.

Jones has been leading both leagues in batting most of the spring and, coming off a .297 season in 1968, obviously has arrived as an important outfielder. He's 26, bats right-handed. He hits homers, knocks in runs and doesn't scare you under a flyball in the field.
 Carew is like Majestic Prince. He has done everything asked of him. Rookie of the year as Minnesota's second baseman in 1967, he just keeps hitting.

Murcer RBI Leader
 Murcer, coming off a two-year Army hitch, was given Yankee jersey No. 1 and Mickey Mantle's locker. He also was given an unaccustomed position at third base and butchered it. Now he's an outfielder and led the league in runs-batted-in according to the weekend averages released May 25.

May, a 21-year-old lefty hitter for the White Sox, hit 10 homers in his first 28 games this season and led his club in rbi's. Bench was Cincinnati's rookie-of-the-year catcher last season and hasn't lost a bit in his second go-round as a sophomore.

Felix Millan, Atlanta's second baseman, not only is an eye-catching fielder but hits with authority with an occasional homer and frequent runs fitting nicely into the star class.

knocked in.
 Danny Cater of Oakland, older than most of the Athletics Whiz Kids, has found the range with his bat and might be a threat for the batting title with his consistency over the long haul.

Rick Monday, Reggie Jackson and John "Blue Moon" Odom are other Oakland regulars.
 You can add Alex Johnson of Cincinnati, Mike Andrews of Boston and rookie Richi Hebrer of Pittsburgh. Even if Hebrer weren't hitting for high average, he'd rank as a colorful character. A hot hockey prospect at one time, Richie works for his dad as an off-season grave-digger.

Coco Is the Boy
 Coco LaBoy, 29-year-old Puerto Rican with Montreal, has been impressive in his first real chance as a major leaguer.

 Among the bright young pitchers in the 24-25 age range are Odom, Tom Seaver of the New York Mets and Fergie Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs.
 Come to think of it, Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers is only 25 and not exactly over the hill yet.

Dear Abby

'Boys' Love to Talk!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who tells his wife everything that happens on a trip away from home? You see, Albert Travels and is away from home about two weeks out of every month.

He is always telling me about how he and some other guys get mixed up with strip-teasers and belly dancers, and they close the club and go to those girls' place and drink until morning. But Albert never does anything. It's always the other guys. He claims he gets rooked into situations like this.

I am wondering if he is telling me the whole truth. How come if my Albert is so innocent, things like this keep happening to him? But on the other hand, if he were guilty, why should he mention it?

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: You don't say how old your Albert is, but he has a lot of growing up to do. Little boys like to talk. Your husband has a big mouth and probably an imagination which is bigger. He could also be trying to make you jealous, so you'll appreciate him more. When he starts on another one of his Arabian Nights tales, tune him out and change the subject.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to "Bewildered Grandma," who says her husband at 69 is still looking at bosomy women. I am only 17, but I know this much about men. They look at women until they die.

My father is 50 and he's still looking. My brother, who is 25, is happily married, but he is looking, to. I have a boyfriend who is nearly 20, and he also looks.

So Grandma, don't worry. The only way you'll stop "Grandpa" from looking is to poke his eyes out.

CINDY
DEAR CINDY: I wouldn't recommend it. He who isn't able to "look" resorts to Braille.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that "BEWILDERED GRANDMA" whose husband likes to look at the cute, young girls that she is lucky.

"Grandpa" who liked to look. And I used to say, "Keep looking, my love, for when a man stops looking he's dead."

Well, he's dead now, and how I wish he were alive today and still looking. A woman should be thankful for a fun-loving husband who has a twinkle in his eye and can appreciate a good looking woman.

ANOTHER GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: Thank you for your precious, honest message. I agree. It doesn't matter where a man gets his appetite as long as he dines at home.

DEAR ABBY: You've had a running feud in your column lately about whether to bathe the baby in the sink.

Let's forget about the dishes for a moment and think about baby. And Mama.

Babies grow up faster than we think. Mamas do get called away, or maybe turn their backs for a moment to turn the roast or answer the telephone.

Babies have jumped out of sinks. Babies have turned on the hot water.

Sign this, "A preacher who has had to console such mothers."

DON J. KLINGENSMITH
DEAR PREACHER: I appreciated your letter. And so will many mothers to whom the above mentioned may not have occurred. (P.S. I wonder if Confucius ever said, "Baby who is bathed in sink is sunk"?)

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700 Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Jim: "How about another wee k of articles on squeeze plays?"

Oswald: "The play is common enough. Sometimes you play deliberately for a squeeze. On other occasions you stumble into one. The main thing to bear in mind is that any time you can take all but one of the remaining tricks and have long cards in two suits, a squeeze may develop."

Jim: "The average player should remember the squeeze is always possible and that nothing is lost by playing for one."

Oswald: "When today's hand was played in a rubber bridge game South won the heart lead; ruffed a heart with dummy's king of trumps showed his hand and remarked that he was going to run out all his trumps and would make seven if a squeeze developed."

Jim: "It was an automatic squeeze situation although the odds were greatly against a squeeze really developing."

Oswald: "For the benefit of our readers who don't see the squeeze, it is against East. South's last three cards are the jack of diamonds and ace-four of clubs. Dummy holds all three clubs and East just can't hold a high diamond and protect his queen of clubs."

Jim: "Not a likely one to develop. Give West either high diamond or either the queen or jack of clubs and there is no squeeze but South had nothing to lose except a little time by giving the squeeze a chance to work."

Oswald: "Note that South was in position from the start. He had all the tricks but one and he held threat cards in both diamonds and clubs."

Jim: "Of course overtricks mean little in rubber bridge but when you can make one without any risk, it is a small but clear profit."

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SPEED TEST: (Q.) Five girls live in our neighborhood. Two are seniors, one is a junior, one a sophomore. I am a freshman.

The sophomore girl's boyfriend is on speed and marijuana. She's decided to try it, too, and so has the junior girl.

I don't care too much for the sophomore or her friends, but am very close to the junior. I wish she would stay out of this. I'm afraid she is going to get hurt.

Since I heard about her plans, our friendship has sort of frozen up.

If she does go ahead, should I hide my true feelings and continue to be her friend, or should I remain cool? What can I do?—B. in Newark, N. J.

(A.) Marijuana is tricky and speed is dangerous. They may not lead to lifelong dope addiction, but again they may. Be sure to tell your girl friend this.

Remain her friend unless (1) You are tempted to join in these dangerous experiments or (2) You see that your reputation is being hurt by associating with her.

Many teens are trying drugs today. Few realize what the cost can be, and I'm not just thinking about money.

TOO THIN: (Q.) Instead of being fat I'm too thin! All my clothes look horrible on me. I'm 15½, male, weigh 105, and am five feet four and a half inches tall. I've been trying to gain for two months but no luck. My waist kind of curves in. What can I do?—C. in Washington, D.C.

(A.) I'm sending you a program of diet, rest, and exercise to help you gain weight. While you are working on it, you can spice up your life by treating yourself to some of today's wild, bold men's fashions. They are designed for males with concave bellies such as yours.

After a trial run of these new colors and shapes you may decide there are distinct advantages to being extra slender.

Some Hits Require Surgery

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Mainstreaming a hit television series over the years often requires a facelift for a show. Many series returning next season have undergone format surgery. And sometimes the human problems involved are similar to those that any company personnel director would understand.

Some years back, for instance, "Gunsmoke" seemed to be in real trouble when Dennis Weaver—the famed "Chester" of the show—decided he had enough of the part and quit. After careful screening, a fellow named Ken Curtis was promoted into prominence on the program, and now his role of "Festus" has made audiences forget Chester.

"I Love Lucy" was one of video's all-time hits, but when the star, Lucille Ball, and her costar—her husband Desi Arnaz—broke up, there were those who wondered whether the comedienne could maintain her popularity. She has, of course, in several variations on her original series, including the latest, which features her children by Desi.

Andy Griffith quit his series this past season, but careful selection of a new leading man, Ken Berry—and emphasis on the other characters—have kept the show going successfully under its fresh title: "Mayberry R.F.D."

"The Virginian" has had its cast changes, as I can attest very personally. Several months ago, I was sold a cable television contract for my sets at home by a salesman who turned out to be Cary Clarke, a former regular on "The Virginian." He, along with others, is out of the program, but it keeps rolling along.

Jackie Gleason's series has had severe ups and downs, as the comedian himself admits with his customary frankness. The high points of the series invariably have been related to the regular appearances of Art Carney as Gleason's pal in difference has been all too "The Honeymooners" seg-clear, and Carney's presence ments. Whenever the show has sorely missed.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Few have achieved so much meaning with so few words as La Rochefoucauld in his "636 Maxims," published in 1678. The World Almanac says. Known for their somber distrust of human motives and actions, as well as their economy of words, a representative maxim might be: "If we succeed in overcoming our passions, it is more because they are weak than because we are strong."

Mounting Criticism

Laird Backs Viet Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has spoken out in support of U.S. battlefield tactics in Vietnam, which Democratic critics say cause needless loss of American lives.

"It's always been our goal to keep the maximum pressure on the enemy consistent with the lowest possible casualties," Laird said Sunday, adding that U.S. commanders continue under instructions to carry out this policy.

Laird, a Republican congressman from Wisconsin before President Nixon appointed him defense chief, outlined his view in an interview before he boarded his airplane for a week-long North Atlantic Treaty Organization planning conference in Brussels and London.

Battlefield tactics have come under mounting criticism from Democratic leaders since the 10-day battle in which GIs drove North Vietnamese off Dong Ap Bia Mountain in 11 assaults that cost some 50 American lives.

Stand Supported
Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called the battle "senseless and irresponsible" in a Senate speech last week and his stand was supported over the weekend by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

Mansfield said Sunday the United States is jeopardizing progress in the Paris peace talks by escalating the war through expanded military pressure creating an "act-react syndrome."

"What we ought to do is not so much apply pressure in Vietnam as to instead apply pressure in Paris," the Montana senator said. "That is where peace is going to be made, not on the battlefield."

Mansfield made the comment on CBS' "Face the Nation." McGovern praised Kennedy Saturday for speaking out "in protest against a truly senseless slaughter" and added, "The only way to end the war in Vietnam is to bring our troops home."

Kennedy followed McGovern to the podium at a $10-a-plate fund-raising dinner by the New Democratic Coalition and spoke again of what he called the "cruelty and savagery of the past week."

"It would have been immoral," Kennedy said, to remain silent about what he called "an unjustified war, an immoral war."

Laird's position and that of the generals is essentially that a cutback in U.S. "spoiling operations" would invite heavier casualties by relinquishing to the enemy the initiative of when, where and how to strike at passive U.S. positions.

A Pentagon statement contended that small-unit patrolling and reconnaissance, and battalion-size operations which result, "are not, in fact, offensive operations but are an active defense aimed at delaying or altering enemy plans."

It is the Nixon administration's position that, as the Pentagon put it, "casualties have been a product of enemy offensive actions rather than of U.S. or South Vietnamese armed forces actions."

Laird declined to discuss the Dong Ap Bia operation in particular. "We shouldn't try to discuss our commanders after an action has taken place," he said.

Same As Under LBJ
The defense secretary said U.S. military commanders "are carrying out to the best of their ability orders prescribed by President Nixon and President Johnson" governing conduct of the war on the ground in Vietnam.

He agreed that the ground operation rules now in effect are the same as those which prevailed under Lyndon B. Johnson's administration.

New Sudan Premier

CAIRO (UPI)—The left wing military group that seized the government of the Sudan installed as premier today a former chief justice who pledged a policy more militant pro-Arab and more anti-western.

The new premier is Abubakar Awadallah, 54, who said today the new government would establish closer relations with the Soviet bloc, replace foreign capital with government-owned companies and cut back on foreign loans.

Big Wheel
RAMSGATE, England (UPI)—For Dave Trumayne, life is just one long spin these days—an on a ferris wheel, 24 hours a day.

Trumayne, 23, is riding the big wheel around the clock to try to beat what he said is the American-held endurance record of 14 days. He was in his fourth day today.

"It's the easiest job I ever had," said Trumayne, who works at the amusement park.

The new government will be "a strong supporter of liberation movements and against colonialism, old and new and oppose Zionist infiltration of the African continent," Oduman Radio quoted Awadallah.

Col. Gaafar Mohamed el-Numeir, an obscure career officer, Sunday led the coup in Africa's largest country, ousting the government of President Ismail al-Azhari, who himself came to power in a coup in 1964.

There was no indication of bloodshed although the new regime said it was looking for the ousted government's ministers of justice and public works, communications and health. There was no mention of former President al-Azhari or former Premier Mohamed Mahjoub.

New Berkeley Protest

By United Press International
A city-wide curfew and a ban on public meetings have been lifted in Berkeley, Calif., but students from all nine campuses of the state university system planned a protest march on the state capitol today.

The ban had been imposed when students, "street people," police and National Guardsmen battled for more than a week over the fate of a minuscule park owned by the University of California.

About 400 students and residents of an adjoining hippie district began work on a new "People's Park" Sunday a few blocks away. The new "park" site is owned by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District and police said they had no immediate plans to evict the militants.

School Remains Closed
National Guardsmen have left North Carolina A&T University in Greensboro, but the school remained closed today to prevent a recurrence of violence which left an honors student dead. Officials say it may stay closed the rest of the semester.

In New York, a proposed settlement of student grievances at City College became a political issue as a host of mayoral candidates jockeyed to obtain maximum advantage from the proposal. Most opposed it.

A force of 200 National Guardsmen remained in Berkeley to guard the three-acre "People's Park" sodded and festooned with trees and

Wrong Planet
ST. LOUIS (UPI)—In a routine teletype report Sunday night the weather bureau here reported that the bright object near the moon was the planet Mars, "which is approaching its nearest distance to earth."

The bureau wasn't off by much—only about 342,300,000 miles.

Moments later the weather bureau wire noted: "We have been advised by the president of the Astronomical Society in St. Louis that the bright star near the moon is Jupiter, and not Mars."

playground equipment by students and residents of Berkeley's hippie colony.

The week of violence, which saw one death, helicopters spraying tear gas and birdshot fired from police riot guns, centered around a university decision to reclaim the park land, slated for use as an athletic field. The university purchased the property in 1967 but had not developed it.

More than 600 persons were arrested in the ensuing clashes and 1,700 National Guard troops were ordered to the city to help enforce a ban on public gatherings. Twenty arrests were made in scattered incidents Saturday.

Quiet As A Church
On the other coast, Greensboro was reported "quiet as a church," but the simile did not include verbal clashes.

The newly elected president of the A&T student government, Vince McCullough, charged the dead student, Willie Ernest Grimes, was killed by police while lying wounded and begging for his life.

Police said they do not know who shot Grimes during a National Guard and police action to quell a series of shootings. They said the fatal bullet was of too small a caliber to have come from a police weapon.

Police officials also charged that five of their number wounded late last Thursday and early Friday were ambushed.

The 4,000-student university was ordered closed Thursday and may not reopen before the end of the term.

have half of each year's freshman class selected from disadvantaged areas with the remainder chosen according to present criteria. The faculty senate is considering the proposal, worked out by negotiators for the administration and minority group students after more than a month of sometimes violent protests.

Nearly all Democratic candidates for mayor opposed the proposal. City Comptroller Mario Procaccino, a CCNY alumnus, said the plan would result in "the exclusion of intelligent, qualified and would result in 'the exclusion of intelligent, qualified and ambitious students.'" Herman Badillo, Bronx borough president, said the scheme would "lead to two separate and unequal colleges."

Writer Norman Mailer said he favors the settlement but his
